TTC For Madoc? Reader call-in survey to decide

by Janice Pinke

Residents of Madoc are being asked to submit their feedback regarding the possibility of a bus service being established from Madoc to Belleville.

Tom Harwood of the Hastings County Social Services and George Frantz, a resident of Madoc who would likely use this service, are the co-ordinators for this pilot project. If successful, bus services could perhaps become available to Belleville, from other communities such as Tweed and Marmora.

The bus service would be aimed at aiding those who are unable to obtain full-time employment in Madoc, would like to work, but transportation is currently unavailable to them.

Other individuals this project could accommodate would be anyone wanting to continue their education at Loyalist Collège. Tom and George are looking at the possibility of having the bus from Madoc, meet the bus which goes into the Loyalist College campus.

But they need reader feedback!

Tom Harwood, told the Madoc Review, that a number of positions are currently available but unoccupied because most individuals are unable to get the needed transportation. One employer, in need of 6 employees and offering between $5 and $8 per hour, would be accessible if this proposed bus service could be instituted.

But they need reader feedback!

Co-ordinators, Tom and George, are also looking at the feasibility regarding the locations and the number of stops the bus would make accommodating anyone employed in Stirling or Tweed or along Hwy. 62.

The bus service would make two trips per day. One in the morning and one in the evening. Times have not been set as of yet, in order to suit all those interested in employing the bus service for the use of transportation to and from work.

Even if you already drive to and from Belleville, this service would also be open to you!

A lot of people have had to move from Madoc to acquire full-time employment.

This service would mean that you could live here, take advantage of the low-cost rents, housing and the beauty of living in the country - away from the city.

But they need reader feedback!

Those looking for a job and on a fixed income can look at the possibility of having their bus fare subsidized by the government. Since operating costs will be mainly funded by the government, daily bus fares will be minimal.

But they need reader feedback! Tom and George have to prepare a feasibility study in order to get the needed backing to get this service initiated. They would like to have the bus operational and making its assigned two trips per day beginning August 1st.

ALL YOU HAVE TO DO is call one of the three numbers listed below, if you think you would use this service and are serious about having it established in Madoc. THAT'S ALL! Dial a number, but only if you are SERIOUSLY interested. The project will not begin, and will end abruptly, if reader feedback and utilization of this project are not received.

Your call-in deadline is August 13th. PLEASE CALL: George Frantz at 473-2218 OR The Madoc Review at 473-4478 OR Tom Harwood at 966-8932.

Doug Hunter Expands to Tweed

by Janice Pinke

Last Thursday the 30th of June, Trudeau Motors in Tweed closed their doors in order to prepare for the takeover of the building by Doug Hunter Ford of Madoc. For approximately the last 65 years, Trudeau Motors has operated out of Tweed and no reason could be discovered by the Madoc Review as to it's closure.

Doug Hunter of Madoc officially takes over the building, July 13th.

The editor of this paper, myself, recently bought a car from Trudeau Motors, Tweed; and now unfortunately will have to take my car to Belleville where my warranty will be honoured. I bought the car in Tweed so that I could have it serviced in Tweed!

Not only am I going to miss Trudeau Motors, Tweed; but a lot of others will miss the staff there and the manner in which you were treated there was above reproach.

Bert Jones, Madoc, told me that if major vehicular problems occur, I would not be denied the possibility of having my car fixed there but that they are a Pontiac-Buick dealership and my car is a Chevy.

Never having dealt with Doug Hunter of Madoc; I have heard good things though; I wish them all the luck on their new endeavor, however, they would not release any further information as to their expansion.

Take care guys! (Brenda, Tony, Carl, Dick, Sue and all the other guys who's names I can't remember.)

New Owner

Bob Bancroft sells Madoc Hotel

Darryl Bailey (l) officially took control of the Madoc Hotel from Robert Bancroft, Monday, June 27th. Darryl, formerly a labourer for the City of Toronto, says "the hotel will continue it's already established time schedule, but hours of operation could change". Also unchanged is the staff; the Hawaiian Beach Party will be announced again this year for this month and the Parking Lot party will again be held in mid August.

Summer Experience--1988

Gregory Paransuk and Christalyn Knight, both of Madoc, have been able to attain positions at O'Hara's Mill, due to a project funded by the government entitled "Summer Experience '88".

Local girls start own business

by Janice Pink

Quinte Home Swim Service is a new venture only operated during the summer months.

Katherine Bonter of Madoc and Heather Mohan of Tweed, through a Student Venture Capital Loan assisted by the government, have developed a unique concept of private and group swimming lessons, given in the clients' own backyard. But that's not all they offer.

They will also act as lifeguards for parties and corporate picnics. They also offer a birthday party package, acting as lifeguards, bringing games and decorations and providing recreation for the kids.

Katherine and Heather received their start-up funds and incentive through the Student Venture Capital program which is sponsored by the Ministry of Skills Development, in co-operation with the Ontario Chamber of Commerce and the Royal Bank of Canada.

The program provides interest-free loans of up to $3000 to students who are establishing their own summer businesses.

Students must be over 15 years of age, returning to school full-time in the fall, and are required to repay the loan by September 30, 1988.

Samantha Vaugeois from the Ministry of Skills Development says "that a lot of businesses do so well that they pay the loan back before the due date".

The Quinte Home Swim Service is presently operating in the Madoc, Tweed and Belleville areas.

Both Katherine and Heather have a great deal of experience working with kids, and as lifeguards and swimming instructors.

Heather Mohan of Tweed (L) and Katherine Bonter of Madoc have started their own company this summer called "Quinte Home Swim Service", with the assistance of a Student Venture Capital Loan sponsored by the Ministry of Skills Development.

Quinte Home Swim Service can be reached by calling 969-1776.

CLASSIFIEDS are for everyone!

by Janice Pink

O'Hara's Mill is the subject of a government program which enables students who are returning to school to obtain summer employment which is directly related to their career choice.

It's called Summer Experience '88" and is funded by the government 100 percent. 14.9 million dollars was budgeted towards the program nationally.

The Experience Program is administered by the Ontario Ministry of Skills Development. O'Hara's Mill, requesting government assistance for both funding and employees, in turn hired Gregory and Christalyn. Both have dual jobs, as program counsellors for children and as cataloguers for the museum on the grounds. Gregory would like to eventually work in metallurgy, but is currently learning how to deal with the public. Christalyn, currently attending Queen's University, would like to work with kids and will now gain the related experience needed for the future.

Jobs are advertised through the Student Employment Centre in Belleville.

Tuesday evening the Village's volunteer firefighters were asked to attend a demonstration utilizing different equipment that would enable them to remove a crash victim as quickly and efficiently as possible. Larry Carswell was the instructor and is with the Hastings County Rescue

Unit. Demonstrations like this one are performed mainly throughout the summer months for the volunteers of the Madoc Village Fire Department. The car, donated by Dennis Derry, was, once used, taken to the wrecking yard.

Moved by Ken Yarrow, Seconded by Ted Pollock, "That Council is in agreement to proceed with closing the road allowance between Concessions 2 & 3 in the area of Lot 2 & 3, with all costs being assumed by the property owners involved and that the Clerk be requested to contact Gregory Anderson, Solicitor, to determine if the survey sketch is suitable for registry office purposes and arrive at an estimated cost." # A look at Stirling's Canada Day events

by Derek Baldwin

sit behind the dunk tank with their dogs, Homer and his honey. They won first place in the pet division.

Just when you thought it was safe to trust...

By Derek Baldwin

It was a dark room. Slivers of light penetrated the venetian blinds and the smell of cheap wine hung in the hot and heavy air.

Harry burped then set down his wine bottle knocking an ashtray off of the coffee table. He picked up his lit cigarette from the ashes on the floor, brushed the crud from the filter end and put it back in his mouth mumbling something about smoking being a dirty habit.

A siren screamed by in the night. Harry broke into a cold sweat and ran to the window and watched the ambulance drive off into the distance. He was tired of this dirty room, his only refuge from a crime he didn't commit.

He could see his wife's face and his heart longed for her company. He took a long, hard drag from his cigarette, stared at the slitted light coming from the window and exhaled. He was beginning to get restless, but in this room restlessness was just a waste of energy.

A knocking on the door broke the silence and Harry jumped.

"Get a hold of yourself - no-one knows you're here," he thought to himself.

"Hello... hello. Harry it's me Jeff - open up," the muffled voice from the other side of the door said.

Harry didn't answer. "What if it is a trick. What if they have found me," Harry thought.

"Come on, open up, it's me Jeff" the voice said.

If it was Jeff then he could trust him. Harry decided to take the chance and opened the door. Harry slumped when he saw Jeff. Jeff hurried in and stood by the window while Harry closed the door.

"How the hell did you find me?" Harry asked straining his voice.

"Slow down, slow down, one question at a time. I had to talk to you. Remember Serena the pretty young lady that you kidnapped and...er well you know was killed," Jeff asked hesitantly.

"Well of course I remember - why would I be hiding in a place like this."

Jeff spotted the wine bottle, walked across the room and lifted it to his mouth and drank greedily. He kept the bottle with him as he walked back to the window. The light outlined his silhouette and revealed that the bottle was almost empty.

"Well what is so important?" Harry asked with a worried accent in his voice.

"They've found your parents Harry," Jeff said.

Harry felt his legs go rubbery while he moved instinctively to the couch before he fell down.

"Are you sure Jeff, 100 per cent sure?" Harry asked.

"Yes I'm sure. I heard it from a reliable source. You know you can trust me Harry. We've known each other forever. You could trust me with your life," Jeff said.

The life seemed to be draining out of Harry every second. "Did they get my kids away in time?" Harry asked wanting to hear the word yes following his question.

"I don't think that your parents knew that they nor the children were in trouble. I don't imagine that your children got away. I'm sorry - if I had've known that they were so close to finding your children I would have taken the kids somewhere myself," Jeff said in a regretful tone.

"Why did I ever get mixed up with those jerks," Harry sobbed.

Harry's mind raced back to that day three years ago when he was approached by an old school chum who had always been in trouble. Harry at the time had his back against a wall. He was on the verge of losing everything because he had invested his life savings and had been taken to the cleaners.

When this troublesome old school chum waved a $100,000 in Harry's worried face, Harry couldn't resist, considering his present state of affairs.

"What do I have to do?" Harry asked.

"My associates and I want a young lady to be delivered to us. Very simple, I'll give you a hundred thou's now and another fifty when she is deposited in our hands," the old school chum replied casually.

Harry agreed, kidnapped her and brought her to the meeting place beneath the bridge as had been planned. He waited there for what seemed an eternity when car lights suddenly appeared in the heavy fog and stopped. Two car doors opened and closed and two dark figures in long coats emerged from the fog to where Harry was, standing with the young girl at his side blindfolded.

The two men were wearing dark glasses but Harry could easily distinguish his old school chum, Johnny.

"Good job Harry," Johnny said as he removed his glasses and stared Harry straight in the face. Johnny smiled as he handed the second payment in an envelope.

"You can go now Harry," the other man said.

Harry asked what they were going to do with her.

"Leave that up to us, you did your job, so leave."

Harry obeyed involuntarily and was walking towards the car when he heard two shots fired, a faint scraping sound as if someone was dragging a body, and then a splash far below.

His guts dropped and he ran to his car, started it and fled scared for his life. They didn't follow him though and his mind filled with visions of someone shooting him and dumping his body in the river.

When he got home he packed his things, collected his children and wife and set out for London, Ontario where his parents lived. He figured they would be safe there for a while.

The next day the New York Times front page read "Mafia princess found in Hudson River" The world was coming down around him. "So that is why they let me go. They set me up. The word is out that I killed the girl," he thought. Mafia hitmen would be on his trail in no time.

After dropping his family off in London he headed back into the United States not really knowing where he was going.

He moved around the states incognito staying at slimy hotels as to not attract attention. Now Jefferey, his old high school buddy had found him.

"Have I slipped up?" he pondered.

"I think that you need a drink, Harry," Jeff said.

"It's my fault Serena is dead, I killed her," Harry sobbed.

Jeff rested his hand on his friend's shoulder. "It's not your fault. You didn't know that they were going to kill her."

"My wife and children are dead because of me as well," Harry said tears filling his eyes.

Jeff trying to comfort his friend the best that he could said, "I didn't say that they killed your family. I said that they found them - who knows they might be alright."

A flicker of hope surfaced on Harry's face and he straightened his shoulders.

"Let's go for a drink and talk about plan B," Harry suggested.

"You might be seen," Jeff stated.

"I don't think so," Harry said as he put on a dark pair of glasses and a phony grey mustache with a hat to match.

They walked out of the room and down the stairs. Once out of the building they took a sharp right down the alley. Water was dripping from the old decaying buildings and streaks of oil were reflected in the small puddles beneath the bright street lights.

"It is good to see a friend after all of this time on my own," Harry said hiding his eyes behind the dark glasses.

"Yes it is, even if they change," said Jeff.

"What do you mean - you haven't changed that much Jeff," Harry exclaimed confidently.

"Oh yes I have."

Jeff pulled out a snub nosed revolver, pumped three bullets into Harry's back and watched him drop to the wet, greasy pavement.

"Oh yes I have. More then you'll ever know."

A return court date has been set for 9 a.m., June 27, at Belleville Provincial Offences Court.

Grant awarded to Queen

The Quinte Education and Employment Equity Network (QUEEN) is pleased to announce that a grant of $10,000 has been awarded to the network by the Ontario Women's Directorate.

Queen is the new name for the former Ad Hoc Committee on the Mothers' and Daughters' Conference, the group which organized a conference with the same name on May 4, 1988.

The grant will be used to cover part of the costs of next year's Mothers' and Daughters' Conference, tentatively scheduled for the week of February 27 to March 3, 1989, at Loyalist College.

The remainder of the funds are to be raised locally, according to an agreement the group has signed with the Directorate. The funding base will mean that a part-time conference co-ordinator can be hired at a later date to assist with the myriad details involved with the event.

The purpose of the conference is to expose grade 8 and 9 girls to broadened career choices and to the importance of continuing with maths and sciences as they complete high school.

Studies have demonstrated that females at this age are more willing to consider the traditional and often better paying careers.

Research also suggests that females are more likely to listen to their mothers' career suggestions than their fathers', even though the fathers themselves, are more likely to have non-traditional suggestions for their daughters.

It is anticipated that the upcoming conference will reflect the successes of last year's conference. The May 4th conference demonstrated the usefulness of having participants attend in pairs, especially mother-daughter pairs, in developing supportive opportunities for girls to discuss career plans. Those girls whose mothers were not available to attend were able to attend with another female adult or with a sibling or peer.

The highlight of the conference was a live theatre performance of the Working People's Picture Show by the Toronto-based Company of Sirens. Participants also listened to a keynote speaker from the Canadian Advisory Council on the Status of Women and attended two workshops.

One was a panel of women working in non-traditional fields and the other was a hands-on workshop in which they participated in a non-traditional activity.

Queen is composed of education and employment equity representatives from Loyalist College, and from the five surrounding boards of education in the Quinte area. For further information, contact Lesley Forrester at Loyalist College 613-962-1170; Marilynne Senese at the Separate School Board at 613-966-9210; Hilary Latimer at the Prince Edward County Board at 393-3153; Ann Matthews at the Northumberland/Newcastle Board 416-372-2439; and Gloria Hay at the Lennox and Addington Board at 613-336-8991.

Quinte Crime Stoppers

Quinte Crime Stoppers requests the assistance of the public in solving a bank robbery which occurred on May 29, 1985, in the village of Frankford.

At a quarter after two, on this day, the telephone line into the Bank of Montreal was interfered with. Five minutes later, a lone male parked a motorcycle near the northwest corner of the bank, leaving it running. He took off his black helmet and replaced it with a green hat.

Carrying a green duffel bag, he walked from the parking lot to the front entrance of the bank. Once inside the bank, he removed a shotgun from the bag and ordered four employees present to hand over the money.

He then produced a cloth bag with a floral pattern on it. A sum of money was collected from some of the tellers' wicks and placed in the bag. One cricket was locked and he threatened to blow it open, but changed his mind.

After collecting all the available cash, the robber exited the bank, and returned to the motorcycle. He left the village going south on Highway 33 towards Trenton, and turned west on March St., Frankford, not wearing his helmet.

Further investigation of the incident determined that the motorcycle used had been stolen a week earlier from the parking lot at Stouffers Foods, Sidney St., Trenton, during the evening of May 22nd, 1985, between the hours of 4 p.m. and 10 p.m.

This motorcycle was found hidden in the bushes along with the black helmet on Concession 6, Murray Township, two miles west of Frankford.

Witnesses who observed the motorcycle on March St., indicate that it was followed by another vehicle, color unknown.

The suspect is described as: male, white, age 20-25, 5'5" to 5'6", 160 to 170 lbs., sandy hair, light complexion, false red beard, and possibly a moustache.

che, dressed in green khaki clothes, wearing brown gloves. He was very calm.

A composite of the suspect has been prepared by the Ontario Provincial Police.

Crime Stoppers offers a cash reward up to $1,000 for information leading to an arrest in this crime or any other unsolved case. If you have any information, call Crime Stoppers at 969-8477 or 1-800-267-4357. Callers will not be required to reveal their identity nor testify in court.

Watch for a re-enactment of the "Crime of the Month" on Cable 4 TV, Belleville.

Man faces eight charges

The Ontario Environment Ministry has charged a Trenton man in connection with the construction of a well in the village of Springbrook on July 13, of last year.

Ivanhoe Celebrates

The Canada Day Award of Excellence went to CHSS student, Leanne Phillips, 16, of Madoc, in recognition of an exceptional contribution to the youth of Canada and to the ideals of Canadian citizenship.

Huntingdon Township office reports that the number of people that turned out for this years fireworks display, equals (approximately) that of last year.

MP Bill Vankoughnet and MPP Jim Pollock attended the Canada Day events in Ivanhoe along with Hastings County Warden, John Irwin and Huntingdon Township Reeve, Glenn Franks.

Madoc Public School is Happening

The Operetta Visits

On Wed., June 15th, the principal of Breadner Public School, Jack Dixon, five members of his staff and all of their Grade 1 and 2 students entertained the pupils and staff of our school.

In the morning the Grade 1's from Breadner performed the operetta "The Little Red Hen". It was just a delightful program.

Then the Grade 1's and 2's from both schools had a picnic together.

In the afternoon, the Grade 1's performed "The Swinging Piper", which is a take-off of the fairy tale "The Pied Piper of Hamelin". Once again, it was a super performance, enjoyed by everyone.

The Breadner boys and girls were given a cool treat before they headed back to Trenton.

Madoc Township Equipment

Road Superintendent Tom Bruce and four other workers from Madoc Township brought seven of their vehicles to the schoolyard.

The students were allowed to get a close-up view of the equipment that these men use to work on the township roads. Many thanks for an interesting display!

Play Day

On Thurs., June 15th, we held our annual "Play Day", that is the special day of the year when every child in the school from Sr. Kindergarten to Grade 6, participates in 10 outdoor activities.

Captains from Grade 6 looked after the 20 teams, with the staff members in charge of the 10 different events.

It was just great to see so many parents here to observe their children participating in the activities.

The primary students competed for the individual "top boy" and "top girl" athletic award which will be presented on the last day of school.

The weather was perfect and thanks to Mrs. Gayle Ketcheson, who organized the day, it was a great success.

A big "thank you" to the volunteers who sold hot dogs, ice-cream, Mr. Freezies and cold drinks.

REPORTING

On Monday, June 13th, Wanda Burnside of the Madoc Township School assisted Mr. Ernie Payette of the support team at the Hastings County Board of Education Office.

They presented to a group of Centre Hastings teachers an overview of the most recent directions relating to Junior Division math.

Field Trips:

Mr. Jack Murphy's grade 4 class travelled to the Lang Pioneer Village to carry out a field trip connected with their environmental science curriculum. Mr. Murphy hosted the students to lunch at his residence.

The JK and SK classes journeyed to Peterborough to visit the zoo. This trip was in support of their awareness curriculum in environmental science.

The Grade 5 and 6 class travelled to Upper Canada Village to observe and study life as it was lived in former years in the southern Ontario area.

New Teacher:

Ms. Patti Sharpe, who will be teaching the Grade 5 class, next year, visited the school to meet the staff and students and to gather necessary curriculum material for next year.

All of us extend a most cordial welcome to Ms. Sharpe.

Staff Dinner:

The staff of the Madoc Township School attended a supper at Campkins. On this occasion, they bid farewell to three colleagues who will not be with the staff next year.

Mrs. Barb Chappelle has been granted a one-year leave of absence; Mrs. Rosalie Sutton will be teaching Grade 4 at the Madoc Public School; Mr. Murray Spencer will be the new Vice Principal at the Madoc School.

All of the staff and spouses wished the departing ones the very best of success at their new assignments.

A Visitor:

Ms. Carol Grosjean, a member of the Central Support Team in Belleville, worked with Mrs. Burnside. TOD:

Mrs. Jan Bruce, curriculum assistance teacher and Mr. Gough on plans and directions for 1988-89.

The emphasis for next year will be on the "whole language" approach to reading and writing, along with the scope and sequence directions in the math program.

Two additional workshops are planned for the school before the end of June: the workshops will be held after school hours and will include members of the primary division.

Members of this division will be attending an N.I. workshop on June 29th, to further their understandings and plans in curriculum areas for the fall.

TELLING THE TRUTH

In my lifetime, I have endeavored to be an honest person. I believe honesty is the best policy. It has always been to my benefit to tell the truth. It has not always been easy, but it has been the best policy.

What do I mean by being an honest person? I mean speaking the truth in love. This would include: showing a genuine desire to help, demonstrating you care, approaching a situation with the right attitude, and maintaining that what you are sharing is the truth.

How do we know what is true? For a sincere student of the Bible, this is an easy question. One of the most repeated phrases of the New Testament is, "I tell you the truth."

If you were to investigate that phrase you would find that it was none other than Jesus, the Son of God, who utters this phrase time and time again. Very few people would doubt the honesty of Jesus' statements.

Now, being an honest person requires that you speak the truth even though it may be unpopular. So, if you would give me the opportunity, I would like to clear the air of a few fabrications.

First, Jesus never said that everyone is going to Heaven, yet many people believe this. Someone is not telling the truth. What did Jesus say? He said that everyone has the opportunity to go to Heaven.

Second, Jesus did not say that good people go to Heaven, yet many people believe this. Someone is bending the truth. What did Jesus say? He said to Nicodemus, a good, moral, upright man, you must be born again. Your goodness is not enough.

Third, Jesus did not say that when He died for the sins of the world that everyone automatically will go to Heaven, yet many rely on this. What did Jesus say? He said everyone who believes, repents and demonstrates faith in what His death and resurrection has done will go to Heaven.

How does the average man determine who is telling the truth? Isn't it true that this preacher says this and that this preacher says that? My friend forgot the preachers! Take your Bible first. Look up those, "I tell you the truth"(s). Obey what you read and you will be an honest person before God. You will be telling the truth, for you will know the One who said, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life. No one comes to the Father except through me". (John 14:6)

O'Hara's Mill

Journey to the Past

Join us in a "Journey to the Past" at O'Hara Museum in Madoc on Sunday, July 10, 1988, from 1-4 p.m.

The day features a re-enactment of the Canadian defence against the American Revolutionary forces by the Royal Yorkers. This special presentation begins at 2 p.m. Having performed at such places as Upper Canada Village and CFB Trenton, we are looking forward to their performance.

Westwood wins it all!

Westwood are winners: Westwood, refusing to buckle from fatigue, handed Spectacle Boutique from Peterborough two Sunday afternoon defeats to take the 1988 Hastings International Fastball Tournament title. Behind the amazing and steady pitching of Brian Condon, Westwood shutout Spectacle Boutique twice by 4-0 scores. Not surprisingly, Condon was named the tourney's most valuable pitcher. (His name has appeared on the trophy before). The 12-team tournament drew teams from as far away as Ohio and New England with local representation from Hastings, Fraserville, Cold Springs, Hoard's Station, Peterborough and the champions from Westwood. Bearing pitching weight for Spectacle Boutique were Glen Crowe and Randy Fife both of whom threw strong games. Westwood's timely hitting and bunting success helped them jump to leads. Their defence -- and Condon -- finished things off.

"The Boat Buddy"

Canoeing

Paddles cutting smoothly through water. The craft skimming softly and quietly across the lake. Images of sunrises and sunsets on calm water. The calls of loons and other water birds. The lake so quiet you can hear the fish jump. No raucous whirr of boat motors. Calm. Peace.

But what about the other images of canoeing? Suddenly rough weather or horseplay in a canoe. The small, unstable craft flipping in the water. Canoeists clinging to an overturned craft, unable to climb back in without overturning it again. A poor swimmer becoming panicky. In spring and fall, cold water...hypothermia...even death.

Canoeing can be dangerous. In 1985, 123 Canadians drowned in accidents, in small, unpowered boats. Because these craft are unstable, many disabled people have never been in one. They have never had a chance to dangle their hands in the water over the side of the canoe or paddle through shallow waters to examine a beaver's dam or a bird's nest.

Older people, as they become less sure of their physical strength and stamina, may give up canoeing for safer, more stable boats.

That may change. This summer, for the first time, disabled children at Camp Merry Wood (near Perth, Ontario) will see what life is like from the inside of a canoe. Their canoes have been specially equipped with a "boat buddy," a canoe stabilizer that makes the craft as safe as larger boats.

A Dream Test

Richard Barr is a man who likes to canoe, and he spends as much time as he can out on the lake. He is so fond of boating that images even drift into his dreams.

A couple of years ago, he dreamt that he had to go to Ottawa and take a test to have a permit to own a small craft. For the test, he had to tie knots, know the rules of the waterways, and demonstrate how to paddle and pick up a canoe.

He also had to prove he could get back into the canoe, the examiner agreed to let him use a mechanical device. In his dream, Barr suddenly had the device, which he fastened to his canoe. And it worked.

When he awoke, the dream seemed so real that in the morning he began drawing the plans for his canoe stabilizer. To test his idea, he bought a small model boat, some styrofoam and some small weights and built a model of the device. Barr tested it in the laundry tub and it worked.

Next he built a stabilizer that would fit his own four foot by eight foot canoe.

From Canoe to Outrigger

The canoe stabilizer or boat buddy as Barr calls it, is a large piece of waterproof rubberized foam, wrapped around a steel rod which is shaped to conform to the side of a canoe.

The foam-covered rod or stabilizer is attached to a steel tube which fits inside a larger aluminum tube and is held in place by a locking pin. A hole is drilled in the side of the canoe, just below the centre strut. The aluminum is then slipped through the hole and bolted to the bottom of the centre strut, and stabilizer fits snugly against the side of the canoe.

To use the stabilizer, the canoeist simply releases the locking pin and pushes the stabilizer out. The steel tube slides out of the aluminum rod, extending the stabilizer out about 30 inches beyond the canoe.

The stabilizer floats, making the canoe into a kind of balanced platform in the water.

With the stabilizer out, the canoe becomes an outrigger and cannot be tipped. A fisherman can stand comfortably in the canoe, children can play and be completely secure, a disabled person can canoe without fear, any boater can weather storms or rough seas.

The stabilizer can also be used in an emergency. If a canoe equipped with a stabilizer tips, the canoeist simply turns the canoe upright, releases the lock pin, pushes the stabilizer into place and is able to climb easily back into the craft, instead of clinging to the boat and waiting for help to arrive.

A Real Test

Barr tested his invention one day in April on a lake near Renfrew, Ontario. He released the stabilizer and stood on a step attached to the other side of the canoe. In spite of rocking the boat and putting as much weight as he could on one side, he could not overbalance his small craft.

Having proved to himself that it worked, he patented the idea and working with his wife in his basement, produced 10 boat buddies. They sold quickly and, through word of mouth, news about the stabilizer spread.

Anyone who has used the product has been impressed. One man wrote Barr with his assessment: "Because of its lightweight design, the boat buddy does not add any noticeable weight to the canoe, and it can be installed in minutes. It is easy to use, even by young children, because of its simple hole and pin locking device."

"The boat buddy adds a great deal of confidence, even for experienced outdoorsmen, when moving around the canoe, fishing or hunting. It is also a great idea for parents whose small children play in the canoe, as it is virtually impossible to tip the craft when the boat buddy is in use."

Realizing the potential for the boat buddy, a local rod and reel manufacturer supported by Shimano Canada is discussing marketing the product across Canada. In his negotiations to produce and market his product, Barr has arranged for a certain number of boat buddies each year to go to camps for handicapped children.

"This year, all the canoes at Camp Merry Wood will have them; next year, I'll equip canoes at two or three other camps in Ontario. Eventually all the camps for handicapped kids across Canada will have them," Barr explained.

"The whole idea of the boat buddy was to help. If one life is saved, then it's worthwhile. I've gotten so much out of life, it's my chance to give something back."

The boat buddy is another example of a device that was designed for the average consumer but can be used by disabled or elderly people to enhance their independence. It is also a Canadian innovation that is likely to find a market anywhere people use small craft, and it will provide jobs for 20 or more people in the Renfrew area.

Because of his work, Barr has been nominated in both the prestigious Manning Award. The awards are presented to Canadians for innovative work in the physical sciences, engineering and humanities. Barr has been nominated in both the humanities and physical sciences categories because the boat buddy is both a means to save lives and, by making canoeing safer, a way to reduce motorboat pollution in our lakes.

Said Barr of his invention: "It's so simple, but most inventions are simple. It would have been easy to forget the dream and just carry on with life. But I had a very supportive wife who was willing to let me invest the money to try to get this going. It just shows that if you believe in something, you can do something about it."

For more information on the boat buddy, contact Richard Barr, Canoe Stabilizer Company Ltd., 258 Centennial Drive, Renfrew, Ont., K7V 4J1. Phone (613) 432-9596.

OLD-FASHIONED STRAWBERRY JAM

4 cups thickly sliced strawberries (2 to 3 pint boxes)

4 cups granulated sugar

1/4 cup lemon juice

Wash and hull strawberries; slice them into a measuring cup until you have 4 cups (firmly packed). Combine berries and sugar in a large, heavy saucepan. Over low heat, stir with a wooden spoon until sugar is dissolved. Raise heat and boil quickly to a full rolling boil. Boil hard (uncovered) for 5 minutes.

Add lemon juice, and boil again for 5 minutes. To test jam for thickness, put a spoonful on a cold saucer, and put it in the refrigerator or freezer to chill it quickly. If you'd like it a bit thicker, boil a few minutes longer and test again.

Remove from heat. Let stand for 5 minutes, skimming off the foam with a metal spoon and stirring occasionally so fruit doesn't float. Pour into sterilized jars. Seal with melted paraffin wax. Makes about 32 fluid ounces (5 to 6 medium glasses).

As charming a gothic style older home as you could find & tastefully appointed throughout.

United Church Poll

The United Church Observer, the largest paid-circulation religious magazine in Canada, has released the results of a poll conducted for the magazine by Decima Research of Toronto.

The poll, conducted in early March, provides the most accurate profile of a national denomination to date. The poll asked Observer readers about issues, such as the ordination and commissioning of homosexual persons, and abortion, but also asked whether readers believe in hell, and Jesus as the Son of God. Readers were also asked to indicate their support for policies and statements of the United Church.

Despite headlines predicting the United Church's breakup ("the news is not that bad," writes Editor/Publisher Hugh McCullum. The United Church, says McCullum, is "Canadian-middle class, aging, not badly off financially, yearning for the good old days, compassionate but not revolutionary."

The poll, according to McCullum, "verifies a lot, but can't tell us much about the future—where do we go from here? That's the church's job."

Among the findings:

- * more than half of those surveyed are over 60; only 4.6 per cent are between 18 and 30; in the words of Contributing Editor Patricia Clark, who wrote the story, "in 20 years, half of us will be over 80 or dead."

- * while over 30 per cent of Canadians live in cities of over 1,000,000 population, only 14 per cent of Observer readers do;

- * a majority of every age group oppose admitting practising gay and lesbian people to ordered ministry;

- * women are more opposed than men to using female images of God; 63 per cent of

It's all in de feet!

It happens every summer. Your feet make their debut after being undercover throughout the winter and you discover they need a major tuneup.

Like other parts of the body - face, hair, hands - feet are an integral part of the whole that need regular maintenance to look and feel good.

A pedicure can give feet the finishing touches they need to step out in style this summer.

Members of Dr. Scholl's Foot Health Advisory Board offer the following tips for quick and easy home pedicures:

- Soak feet in an instant foot bath for 10 minutes to soothe tired feet as well as soften corns, calluses and hardened skin.

- Use a contoured file or pumice stone to whisk away dead skin that builds up on the bottoms of feet and on toes.

- Cut toenails straight across, never in the corners to help prevent ingrown nails.

- Massage feet and legs with a foot moisturizing and conditioning lotion. This is best done after bathing. Feet can lose up to a pint of fluid daily; therefore, they need moisture regularly to help avoid dry, cracked skin. In addition, a massage helps increase circulation and relax tense muscles.

- For a perfect finish, add nail polish and allow it to dry for 30 minutes.

- Before sliding into your favorite shoes, sprinkle feet with foot powder to help absorb perspiration and keep feet feeling refreshed throughout the day.

- With a few simple steps, feet will look and feel as great as the rest of your body. So, go ahead, flaunt your feet this summer.

readers wanted language about God to remain predominantly male;

* only 26 per cent of readers believe a person must be born again to be saved; 51 per cent reject the notion;

* only 17 per cent would allow unrestricted abortion; but 79 per cent would allow abortion under a variety of circumstances, especially if the mother's physical or mental health were in danger;

* 40 per cent say Canada does not spend enough money on foreign aid, while in another question, 66 per cent support greater restrictions on allowing refugees into the country;

* 98 per cent believe Jesus is the Son of God, but two-thirds believe Jesus is not the only way to God;

* while 76 per cent believe in heaven, 49 per cent believe there is also a hell; 54 per cent believe there is a force for evil in the world, like the devil, but 33 per cent did not.

The survey of 500 readers was done on the basis of 2,500 names drawn at random from The Observer's subscription list. Decima says its findings are reliable within a range of 4.5 per cent 19 times out of 20.

At its June meeting, the Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA) Board of Directors approved the following recommendations regarding waste management.

These recommendations to government and public officials are a major step in the control of air, water and ground pollution. They are feasible and affordable in comparison to landfills if properly interpreted and implemented.

Section 1 Summary of Recommendations

1. That OFA support and promote the 4 R's program:

- 1) reuse
- 2) reduce
- 3) recycle
- 4) recovery of energy

2. That OFA strongly promote Energy From Waste (EFW) plants, and that separation of recyclable materials be an integral part of these plants.

3. That OFA continue to support, research, advocate and promote all methods of reducing the need for landfill sites with the ultimate goal of eliminating landfills.

4. That OFA support use of composting of bio-degradable materials.

5. That consultation be maintained between OFA and the Ministries of Agriculture and

6. That stringent air emission standards for EFW plants be adopted and enforced by the Ministry of Environment, incorporating and upgrading to, the latest technology available.

7. That all ash from EFW plants be disposed of in a safe manner to effectively protect the environment.

8. That the Ministry of Environment have all below-standard landfill sites investigated, and effective remedial action taken.

Attempted Murder Charge

by Janice Pinke

Peterborough OPP, Monday, July 4th, arrested Madoc store owner Jae Shin and charged him with attempted murder in connection with a stabbing incident that occurred at the Burger Hut, which is located on Peterborough Street in Norwood.

Jae Shin, 36, a Coe Hill resident, appeared in court Tuesday the 5th and was released on his own recognizance pending a future court appearance.

Charlie Song, the victim and a long time friend of Jae Shin, was stabbed in the right thigh. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough, treated and released.

The maximum penalty for an attempted murder charge is 14 years.

The Madoc Review was able to speak with Mr. Shin. He has obtained a lawyer and is fighting the charge which was initiated by the Peterborough OPP.

He says that Charlie Song and himself have been friends for many years and still remain so to this day. He will be keeping Kramp's Variety and Gas Bar open and operational with no sight of a closure.

Curtis McLean, John Stone and Carmen Donato, of the Madoc OPP are coaching a beginners T-Ball for Madoc and area kids and invite anyone who wishes to play to attend. Pictured above is Joe Johnson who readies for a pitch from a fellow teammate during the first T-Ball game for this summer held this past Friday. Come join in on the fun at Madoc Ball Park (across from Kramp's Restaurant) every Friday beginning at 6 p.m.

Moira Lake Patrol

by Janice Pinke

The Madoc OPP detachment recently began their annual program patrolling the Moira Lake waters.

They will be enforcing the safety aspect of the waters and ensuring the lawful enjoyment of anyone on the waterway.

During the summer patrolling of Moira Lake will, on average, be done 4 days a week including the weekends.

Below are a few of the violations to be regulated by the boat patrol but pamphlets outlining all regulations can be picked up at the Madoc OPP detachment or obtained from the boat patrol at no charge.

The boat patrol will be enforcing all liquor violations and an alert kit is part of the boat patrols equipment. Any suspicion of alcohol; a breathalyzer will be requested. A lot of water accidents and deaths have been attributed to alcohol.

All water vehicles must have lifejackets suited to fit the individual who will be wearing it. An adults lifejacket cannot be worn by a child.

All water vehicles must be equipped with oars, bailers and sounding devices. Sounding devices were legislated 3 years ago. Madoc OPP, in previous years were giving out warnings regarding the absence of sounding devices but this year will be giving out fines.

As for water skiers; police will be making sure they are not too close to shore and that when a person is skiing there must be an additional 2 people in the boat.

Madoc OPP want to make sure that no one spoils it for those who just want to enjoy the pleasures offered in Moira Lake.

Burning Banned

by Janice Pinke

The Tweed District of the Ministry of Natural Resources has issued a "Restricted Fire Zone" warning again, for their Tweed Fire Management area. This includes Madoc! Ignoring the restriction could mean possible charges under the Forest Fire Prevention Act. The maximum fines being $1000 or 3 months in jail.

Approximately 25 acres of land was still burning in Kennebec Township, which is northwest of Sharbot Lake, this past Friday. MNR crews were having trouble containing the fire. Several firefighters suffered heat exhaustion and smoke inhalation.

The "Restricted Fire Zone" was in effect until July 11th, but will probably be extended due to the weather conditions.

Al Carr from the Tweed MNR office, told the Madoc Review that "it would take a lot of rain to remove the restriction".

Use extreme caution in forest areas!

Letter to the Editor

Proposed Park sparks MNR Minister's letter

Dear Editor:

I read with great interest the article in the June 27, 1988, edition of the Trentonian. "Hunters charge Grits backs-hunting sportsmen".

In January, 1988, the Madawaska Committee of the Canadian Parks and Wilderness Society released a discussion paper proposing the creation of a Madawaska Highlands Regional Trust.

The Ministry of Natural Resources is supportive of many of the resource concerns presented in the committee's discussion paper. But, as I told the Legislature on Thursday, June 29, "the proposals for a wilderness trust in the Madawaska Highlands are a private initiative and are not supported by the government."

To further clarify the matter, the land covered by the proposal does not have park status and will not be designated as a new provincial park. Therefore, despite any claims to the contrary, the new parks policy does not apply to

The Ministry of Natural Resources will continue to responsibly manage the area and has no plans to curtail current hunting and fishing activities on Crown Land which is outside the park system. The provincial government has no control over whether private landowners exercise their right to post their land.

I trust that this will clarify the matter.

Yours truly
Minister

Leanne Phillips, 16, of Madoc and a student of CHSS, displays "The Canada Day Award of Excellence" which she received during the Canada Day events in Ivanhoe. The award is given "in recognition of an exceptional contribution to the youth of Canada and to the ideals of Canadian Citizenship". For the summer, Leanne is working as a swimming instructor and lifeguard in Marmora and would eventually like to become a teacher.

Belleville Waterfront & Folklorama

July 15-17

The scarlet-clad pageant of the 1800's springs to life once more—it's a sound and light spectacle like nothing you've ever witnessed: the stirring strains of bugle, fife and drum, the glint and gleam of bayonets, the smell of powder and the rattle of rifle fire.

This high calibre entertainment will be performing at the Belleville Waterfront Festival & Folklorama Weekend of July 15, 16 and 17.

The Old Fort Henry Guard will be demonstrating their intricate maneuvers and split-second timing on Sunday, July 17, during two 45 minute shows: 12:00 - 12:45 p.m. and 4:30 - 5:15 p.m. Both shows will be stationed in the parking lot at West Zwick's Island.

The Guard comes to us from Kingston where the group rehearses the ceremonies of the past at Old Fort Henry throughout the summer months. This historic structure was once the principal stronghold of Upper Canada.

Don't miss the thrilling display of authentic 19th century military tactics at the Belleville Festival Weekend!

Bus Service for Madoc!

by Janice Pinke

August 1st is the date Tom Harwood and George Frantz, co-ordinators of the bus service from Madoc to Belleville, want to have the bus line operational, and it looks as if it is going to happen.

Approximately 50 people responded to the headlining feature "TTC for Madoc?" in last week's Madoc Review, which is more than adequate to support and thus result in the commencement of the new service.

Tom and George will begin preparations this week to have the bus service ready for August 1st.

George Frantz says "that those people who are responding are very enthusiastic about it (the bus service)".

The bus service is to run from Madoc Village to Belleville twice a day, making stops wherever necessary on the decided bus route, in order to accomodate those working full-time or seeking full-time employment.

Tom Harwood from Hastings County Social Services is aware of some employers who are unable to fill vacant positions due to the lack of transportation needed by possible employees.

Inquiries and your support for this service are always needed. Below find the telephone numbers to call as Tom and George are concerned that some people may have left it up to other people to call in.

Read the Madoc Review next week for definite news on the bus service or call George Frantz at 473-2218 or Tom Harwood at 966-8032.

Sunday, July 24, The MTM Jr "C" Hockey Club and the Madoc Figure Skating Club are co-hosts to the Annual Madoc Tractor Pull. The event is being held at the Madoc fairgrounds, thanks to our local fairboard, with the Pulls starting at 12:00 noon. This year there will be 14 classes with the addition of a vintage 8,500 lb. class. The Pull for those living in a radius of 15-miles will also be held in the 8,000 lb. class.

Admission prices will remain the same with Adults - $5.00, Students - $3.00, and Children under 12 - $1.00.

A canteen will be open on the grounds.

An Added Attraction Again this year is the "MTM Hurricane Dunk Tank" which has been in operation at several events in the surrounding areas. One volunteer has already come forward to take a shower, in the person of Mr. Bill Willemsen. Anyone with grudges, now is your chance.

This Tractor Pull has been a very successful event, with crowds estimated at over 1,000, due to the continued support of our very many community minded business and individuals. We appreciate all the help.

responsible for new applications, the Association's annual meeting and events scheduled for Block Parent Week in October.

Assisting her are two captains' Gail Rollins and Joette Oliver. Shirley Hagerman has recently become their new school liaison person.

Effective immediately, Sandra Dixon (r), is stepping down as Chairperson for the Madoc Block Parent Association and Micki McLean will be filling the position. Sandra took over from John Hall, the position of Chairperson, over a year ago but is now moving from Madoc Village.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters

An Educator's Point of View

John L. Murphy, Principal
an address to a group of young teachers last June, John Bogart, Chairman of The Hastings County Board of Education said that at one time there were three influences on children in the community. These were the home, the church and the school. He pointed out that in today's rapidly changing society, the escalating rate of family break-up and falling-off of church attendance had put a greater burden on the school.

Bogart was not being sentimental, but was stating a fact which I as an educator can affirm.

In Madoc Public School, forty-five per cent of our students come from homes where there is either a single parent or there has been a change of parent through divorce or family break-up. This is probably the same as in other school communities.

I am not being judgmental when I say this usually presents additional problems for the parent(s), children and the school. In this my last year of teaching, I have spent more time than ever, just talking to children who are hurting, angry or misbehaving. In most cases, a sympathetic ear can work wonders. Many children asked me to refer them to professional counsellors at the Health Unit. Here again, the caseload is just too big for the number of staff involved. It becomes a question of time and money.

Where do you fit in then as a Big Sister or Big Brother? It will cost you little or no money, perhaps the occasional treat. The kids are not badly behaved and they are not looking for handouts or gifts. They just want your time. Time to listen, to be with you to show that you care about them.

In each week there are 168 hours. As a Big Sister/Brother you are asked to spend 4 hours per week. This represents less than 2% of your time.

In some years past, I served on the Board of Directors of Big Brothers/Big Sisters including several years as President. Although I was never a Big Brother myself, I accompanied groups of Little Brothers/Little Sisters on several overnight camp-outs. They were wonderful and had great fun and so did I, especially the year I took my young daughter with the group.

In the days before we had a Big Brothers/Big Sisters organization in Centre Hastings, a group of teachers, some fathers and myself used to go back north for overnight camps.

On one occasion, late at night around a large campfire, the conversation turned to stealing and violence. I apparently made a very strong impression about never using violence even if they were down and out. I told them that most people are good and will help if you tell them the truth and look them in the eye.

Some years later, I received a letter from Toronto. It was from one of the boys who had been on that particular camp-out. It read in part: "It was November and I was out of work, down and out, cold and hungry. In desperation I was going to 'roll an old gray' on the dark street. I remembered your words: 'Go to the front door of a brightly lighted house, knock, look the person in the eye and tell them your troubles.' I did that and the middle aged man and woman who came to the door said: 'Come on son'."

I was able to board with this couple until I got back on my feet." Can you afford to give 2% of your time to help a young boy or girl? Can we afford not to?

A spokesman for G. W. Martin says the plant is closing because it is no longer feasible for the company to run the mill. Martin's has four other veneer plants in northern Ontario.

The closure means that 50 people, mostly residents of

Good news for Goodyear Inc.

Napanee - Bill Vankoughnet, M.P. for Hastings-Frontenac-Lennox & Addington is pleased to announce that the Federal Government has tabled a tariff remission order.

The Order for Goodyear Canada Inc. provides for remission of customs duties in the amount of $3 million dollars on tires imported by the company, commencing on October 1, 1987 and ending on September 30, 1992. The remission is granted on condition that customs duties shall not exceed 12.6 million for each of the five 12 month periods commencing on October 1, 1987.

Trade being the important economic engine of prosperity for Canadians, the federal government has been encouraging Canada's tire industry to restructure its operations on a North American basis and modernize its Canadian production facilities. This assistance will enable Goodyear to grow from its Canadian base, encouraging new investment in world scale Canadian enterprises", said Mr. Vankoughnet.

We are confident that the attitude, ability and enthusiasm of our people here in the Napanee area can and will be competitive.

I applaud the Government's decision to approve this program which will safeguard the future of this industry and ensure that many jobs will be created for years to come in this part of Eastern Ontario.

The recent announcement that Goodyear will build a state of the art tire operation in the Napanee area will create directly up to 800 new jobs.

"Goodyear's confidence in Canada and particularly Napanee as a place to invest is in large part due to the positive investment climate in Canada and the prospects of tariff free North American trade under the Canada U.S. Free Trade Agreement.

I am extremely proud of the people I have the honour to represent and congratulate all those people at the local level for their co-operation and level of competence shown over the past few months in making this all possible.

Agriculture celebrates 100 years

The Kemptville College of Agriculture Technology was formed by OMAF in 1917 under the name of "KAS" (Kemptville Agricultural School). In 1968 the school obtained its present name: Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology (KCAT). Today Kemptville College provides 2-year Diploma Programs in Agriculture, Horticulture and Food Services.

In addition, the College has become a focal point for many continuing Education Courses in Agriculture and Horticulture.

On May 24, however, students from Kemptville shed their regular school clothes and donned Centennial costumes and re-enacted how they thought the Diploma programs were taught in the early 1900 era.

Students from Kemptville participated to celebrate the Centennial Year of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and

SUNRISE

I had failed to lower the blind, before going to bed. At 5:30 a.m. the sun's rays breached the window sill in our room and fell on my slumbering eyes. I fought the light and tried to fall asleep again. However, it was useless. The light had awakened me.

As I lay in bed, I thought about the power of light. Usually, nothing can arouse me from my deep sleep.

My mind wandered to a stanza from "And Can It Be". Charles Wesley, the author of the hymn, may have had a similar experience as I. He speaks about it in the third stanza and draws a comparison to a person becoming converted.

Long my imprisoned spirit lay

Fast bound in sin and nature's night.

Thine eye diffused a quick'ning ray:

I woke – the dungeon flamed with light!

My chains fell off, my heart was free,

I rose, went forth, and followed thee.

Charles Wesley knew a great deal of the Bible. He borrowed the Bible's concept of sin's darkness and salvation's light and penned these wonderfully poetic words.

I can't help but think that he included a little testimony of what had happened to him personally. Certainly, only the person who awakes from a life of darkness by the light of God could write such a hymn.

There is one line that rings so true. When Charles wrote, "Thine eye diffused a quick'ning ray: I woke...", he was right on the money. The Bible says that all men are spiritual corpses. They are dead and unable to respond to God. God, by His Spirit, quickens the deadness of our souls, so that we can turn to God, so that we can understand, so that we can believe and repent, and so that we can live for Him. When that happens, we too can say that we are alive in Him. We have been awakened to newness of life; born again spiritually.

New $20 million Peterborough plant

Peterborough - Kendall Canada will receive a million contribution under federal government's Industrial and Regional Development Program (IRDP). funds will be used toward establishment of a plant in Peterborough, estimated to be $20-million.

The new plant will employ people and will generate over $200-million in sales within the first three years of operation," said Bill Dommin, for Peterborough, in making the announcement on behalf of Robert R. de Croter, Minister of Regional Industrial Expansion and Minister of Science and Technology.

Kendall will manufacture and distribute medical and surgical supplies and products used in hospitals, nursing institutions and homes. These include surgical dressings, absorbent incontinence, biological and respiratory products.

Kendall Canada is one of three Canadian divisions owned by Colgate-Palmolive (New York) and currently manufactures healthcare products from a plant in Toronto.

The Kendall Company recently sold its world-wide fibre products businesses to the International Paper Company. The sale affected about 40 per cent of the Canadian operation and, as part of the sale, International Paper purchased Kendall's Toronto plant.

As a result, Kendall Canada had to seek a new location for its hospital products manufacturing and Canadian head office and decided to move to Peterborough.

Bill Dommin welcomed Kendall Canada's decision to choose Peterborough for its new plant and head office and said he looked forward to the significant employment and economic benefits it will bring to the area.

Landfill sites and waste an issue

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture has come out in support of a 4R Program to combat the problem of waste management in the province.

The 4Rs - Reuse, Reduce, Recycle and Recover energy - are necessary alternatives to current dependence on landfill sites, says the OFA. The majority of landfills are situated on expropriated farmland.

At its June board of directors meeting, the Federation also strongly supported energy from waste (EFW) plants and

Travel Insurance - A Word To The Wise

If the words 'flight delay', 'trip cancellation' and 'lost luggage' are enough to make you rethink that flight to Pago Pago, you're not alone.

The most down-to-earth page those glossy holiday brochures may be the travel insurance page, with its long list of potential gerils. Not surprisingly, by the time they get to the accidental death and dismemberment category, most holiday goers turn the page. These days, however, there are compelling reasons take a second look.

"People may not need to buy all types of travel insurance," says Ontario's Travel Registrar, Hal Burns, who enforces government regulations designed to protect travellers. But we urge them to investigate the options provided.

At a little over $1 a day under most coverage plans, it's an inexpensive way to plan for the unexpected. Emergency health care costs in the U.S., for instance, can be many times more costly than in Canada.

And OHIP covers out-of-province costs using an Ontario-based expense table, which means if you suffer sudden illness or need an emergency operation while on holiday, any costs which exceed the OHIP guidelines will be borne by you - or your travel insurer.

One travel agent reported a case where a customer on a vacation in Hawaii was injured in a car accident and his total medical bill exceeded $75,000 - which was covered by his $15 insurance premium.

Because types of health coverage vary widely, here's where comparison shopping at home can ease headaches later on. Travel wholesalers list options on the back pages of their brochures.

Plans range from minimal to all encompassing," says Burns, "and premiums don't depend on whether you select one or two options or take the whole menu. Taking the lot may seem like a bargain, but not all travellers need full protection."

Large commercial insurers offer plans covering all destinations, and may be a good way to supplement or replace a meagre plan offered by a particular wholesaler.

The Registrar warns that when comparing health insurance plans, consumers should especially consider that some cover pre-existing conditions such as diabetes, while others insure only for new problems that develop, and won't cover a diabetic attack requiring hospitalization.

However," Burns says, "if the condition has not required treatment in the past six months, a recurrence will be considered accidental and thus covered under most plans."

One easily avoidable travel headache is lost luggage. Baggage insurance won't ensure your travel photos are recovered, but compensation of up to $750 per person may ease the pain.

Claims can be for lost, damaged or stolen baggage, with a limit of $250 per individual item (a single suitcase, or a camera), so it may be best to insure valuables through a household insurance policy as well.

Buying insurance means a sober consideration of the nasty 'what ifs', the number of which seem to multiply the further afield you plan to roam. Snake bites and shark attacks are more of a concern on tropical holidays than say, a weekend in Montreal. Hence, the exclusion section of travel insurance policies.

Common exclusions include scuba divers, student pilots, professional athletes, those who abuse alcohol or drugs or indulge in mountain climbing or sky diving. "Read the fine print; ask pointed questions" Burns counsels.

Although travellers probably can't insure themselves against helicopter skiing mishaps, they do have recourse if their flight doesn't take off and leaves them steaming in Pearson International Airport instead of Costa Rica.

More Abled Than Disabled

by Barbara Pealow

The challenge of Elderhostel alone

by Aureen Richardson

Since 1984, I have attended four Elderhostel one-week programs in Canada, a three-week one in Switzerland in 1986, and a three-week one in Australia in February 1988.

On each of these, husband Raymond accompanied me. He pushed my wheelchair and did numerous things for me. I really felt that I likely could not attend one without him.

In June, I learned that he had no interest in attending the one in Waterloo, June 19-25. It included instructions in writing, which was important to me. Two other topics could be of interest to him, but he wished to stay at home.

What would I do? Would I miss the course? Would I have strength to drive there and do the extras for myself?

My desire for the course dominated my thoughts, with the muscular disability, familial spastic paraparesis, the doctor said. "Spend your strength frugally as you don't have any."

I hadn't driven 150 miles during four years of handicap, but I was aware that I could stop if a little weary. I could register from 2-5 p.m., but I left at 9 a.m., as I could take breaks enroute.

It seemed appropriate to stop at Oshawa for 20 minutes. Then I continued without another break until Waterloo. How gratified I was that I could do it!

I was able to put two small carry-all bags in my wheelchair and get to the reception (the least luggage was the easiest carried).

Had I known that the accommodation and place of lecture were almost a half-mile apart, I would not have tried it. Seniors were excellent and took turns pushing me to and from classes. Whenever a student was on this route, I asked for his assistance to relieve a senior. Students were most obliging.

Writing Class

I found the writing class was most rewarding. Professional writers gave us beautiful ideas to enhance our present writing. Each person submitted one story to be critiqued.

My story, "Sharing Canadian Art", told that I took Canadian historical prints to Australia and New Zealand in February and March. These prints by the late J.D. Kelly, a native of Percy Township, were well received by schools and individuals.

The Waterloo professor said, "I'm inspired that you would take Canadian prints to Australia. I would never have thought of it."

As my story was critiqued, I showed three prints of J.D. Kelly to the class. Immediately class members said, "I didn't recognize Kelly's name, but I recognize his pictures from history books."

When the professor told me that I should write a book on Kelly, I showed her the thirty-five page booklet of the Kelly newspaper stories that I had done in the past two decades.

She urged me to keep in touch with her and she offered me her assistance. What positive reinforcement this was!

As well, I participated in lectures, discussion on films, and welfare state. Extra curricular activities included two performances in Stratford, a tour of shopping in Elora and St. Jacobs, and a tour of brewery.

Most of the above interested me, but I was satisfied with the

"THICK-IT"

A spoonful of Thick-it makes the liquids go down. Coffee you can eat with a spoon? Orange juice that clings to the tongue? These are not normal menu items in the hospitals, but for many patients they represent the only way to consume liquids.

A group of speech pathologists and dieticians gathered at Runnymede Hospital last March, to sample a new product that could greatly improve the quality of life for those who suffer from swallowing disorders.

Estelle Klasner, speech and language pathologist at the 114-bed chronic care hospital, said she believes "Thick-it", newly-marketed in Canada by Oetker Foods of Mississauga, is "an excellent product".

Thickened liquids help those who suffer swallowing disorders by making it easier to move the substance to the back of the mouth in a controlled manner, while enabling the proper swallowing reflex to take place. Swallowing disorders can lead to dehydration, choking, aspiration and pneumonia.

Usually liquids are thickened by adding such substances as rice flour, corn starch, potato flakes, sausages, gelatin and pureed fruits.

These additions change the flavor and often separate out shortly after mixing. Some of them must be cooled or heated to use, and only work in some items. Also, most of them do not solve the problem of dehydration, since they bind to water.

The advantages of the new products, says Ms. Klasner, is that it can be used in hot or cold items and doesn't need to be heated or cooled for use; it is essentially taste-free and is stable.

A range of consistencies are available by adding more or less Thick-it, and in digestion, the water is separated from the solid, thereby hydrating the patients.

Ms. Klasner said she first sampled Thick-it while at an American Speech and Hearing Conference in New Orleans. Her inquiries, plus those of other Canadians, led to Oetker's marketing of the item here.

Now approximately 60 per cent of the patients at Runnymede are benefitting from the product.

Ms. Klasner arranged the tasting session so others in the Toronto area could try it.

The product, sold in powder form, is used by the tablespoon. The cost of thickening four ounces of juice to a pudding-like consistency is about .44 cents.

16 Counties funded $41,000 for Outreach program

Hugh O'Neil, MPP Quinte, today announced over $41,000 in funds to expand Attendant Care Outreach for people with physical disabilities in Belleville and the counties of Hastings and Prince Edward. The announcement was made on behalf of John Sweeney, Minister of Community and Social Services.

Breathru Co-operative, an Attendant Care Outreach program sponsored by Cheshire Home, a residence for people with physical disabilities in Belleville, will receive $41,450 to expand its program. Attendant Care Outreach provides up to four hours per day or 120 hours per month of specialized personal care to people with physical disabilities in their own homes.

"Attendant Care Outreach is one of the ways the government helps people with physical disabilities to live in the community and to be as independent as possible. To some people, it can mean the difference between living at home or staying in a chronic care hospital," said Mr. O'Neil.

The funding provided by the Ministry of Community and Social Services, will cover the cost of providing services to more people with physical handicaps.

Contact: Bill Luker, Program Supervisor, Kingston office, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Kingston, Ontario, (613) 545-0539 or Susan Reid, Program Supervisor, Kingston Area Office, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Kingston, Ontario. (613) 545-0539.

Ivanhoe Institute

The Ivanhoe Institute July meeting was held in the basement of the West Huntingdon Presbyterian Church recently.

The president opened the meeting with a poem entitled, "The Little Things" followed by the Mary Stewart Collect and Institute Ode. Roll call was answered by each one giving a current event collection. Pennies for friendship and birthday money were gathered.

The president gave us a reading on "Dominion Day". Mrs. David Cooke showed pictures of the Bahamas and Margaret presented her with a gift.

Mary Sills put on a contest and the meeting closed by singing Institute Grace. The hostess and assistant served a lunch also.

Ken Yarrow

Canada Day Celebrations are over for another year; the speeches are over - the fireworks and all the other crowd-pleasers live on in our memories and on film.

We certainly appreciate the monumental efforts to coordinate this show by the Recreation Committees and Colonies; for instance, the Huntingdon Recreation Committee and Ivanhoe Cheese, as well as all the other volunteers and participants.

We celebrate Canada Day each year, in one form or another, with just cause. We are proud Canadians and have a great deal to celebrate. Our heritage is based on determination and commitment, as well (consciously or unconsciously) to an honest and democratic society.

Although we may complain sometimes about cost, we support one of the best health care systems in the world. To me, this demonstrates the extent of our regard and caring for our fellows.

We depend on our justice system, as well as our government, to ensure our safety and our rights as Canadians. This is as it should be. In addition to the up-front public people, we are blessed with a myriad of volunteers and advisors who help to develop and maintain our Canadian way of life. The list goes on endlessly of what people constitute Canada.

Throughout all this, we enjoy not only the basic freedoms but, as seen in the eyes of some others, untold wealth and luxury.

We enjoy the right to vote and elect representatives of our choice!

The point to be made is this: If we do not exercise this right, then we have no cause to complain when things do not suit us. If we do not make our elected people aware of our concerns, as well as those things that please us, then we must live with what we get.

Politicians may not be aware of a local problem over which they may have influence. If your concern is a minority thing, then, in our democratic society, majority rules.

This does not mean that it cannot be dealt with, only that if it is a voting item, then you must influence enough votes by persuasion or group pressure to obtain your desires.

Indications are for an election this fall so, if you have concerns, now is the time to start working on them.

Personally, I think the environment, acid rain from here and across the border, garbage, and Free Trade are further maintained that separation of recyclable materials can and should be an integral part of these plants.

OFA president Brigid Pyke said, "The Federation will be conducting its own study to look at the way various waste management options are funded in Ontario. Is there an imbalance in public funding which leads municipalities and local governments to choose landfills over other alternatives - we'd like to know so we can recommend change."

OFA will also identify specific changes in provincial and municipal legislation needed to improve community waste management. "Our goal is to come up with information and strategies which our federation members can use locally to make sure wise waste management choices are made at the local level," said Pyke.

Our democratic way is our biggest asset - support it and use it.

Locally, I hear wives say they now feel guilty about throwing out recyclables. I wonder if the steering committee is going to come out of caucus or are we going to wait until after the municipal election so there will be no fallout. How about it folks?

And the place was packed!

by Janice Pinke

The Madawaska Highlands Regional Trust has been causing quite a commotion in these areas because the proposal involves the use of approximately 1 million acres north of Hwy. 7 to be zoned as a national park.

First there was the meeting in Frankford, organized by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters (OFAH), at which 500 people attended, the majority of which were against the establishment of the park.

Tuesday, July 12th, the community of Northbrook held their own meeting. As close to 1000 people attended the meeting according to Ron Pethick, a member of a committee formed by Northbrook residents. The committee organized the meeting in hopes of gaining information regarding the proposed "Trust" submitted by the Canadian Parks and Wilderness Society, Perth, Ontario.

Again, as in Frankford, the people who attended the meeting were asked to submit their concerns, to their local MPP and the Minister of Natural Resources, Vincent Kerrio.

Terry Quinney, representing the OFAH, was on hand for Tuesday's Northbrook meeting held at the Lion's Hall. He told the Madoc Review that "an overwhelming majority of people at Northbrook's meeting were against the establishment of the park at this time". Ron Pethick verified this saying that most people believe that "the park is not necessary for this area".

Other speakers which attended Tuesday's meeting included MPP's Jim Pollock and Bill South, MP Bill Vankoughnet and the District Manager from the Ministry of Natural Resources Tweed office.

Opposition to the park establishment has been raised mainly due to the fact that most of the proposed land will result in the banning of hunting, trapping and logging.

The Canadian Parks and Wilderness Society is proposing the establishment of the park hoping to preserve the wildlife, lands and waters within the proposed 1 million acres.

A new apartment complex nearly completed the project, a 12 unit apartment building will be has received funding through provincial loan built adjacent to another building, on land under the Convert-to-Rent program. Under originally used for an arena.

12 New Units

by Janice Pinke

Provincial funding designed to stimulate the conversion of properties into new rental housing will soon generate an additional 12 apartments in the Village of Madoc.

Due to be completed next month, a provincial loan of $84,000 has been approved under Ontario's Convert-to-Rent program, for a property on Baldwin Street across from Madoc Public School.

A spokesman for the new apartment buildings says that "seventy-five percent of the units are now spoken for".

The Rolling apartment complex located at the far end of St. Lawrence E., were completed 15 to 20 years ago and were the last apartment buildings to be implemented in the Village of Madoc. The units rent for $495 per month.

According to a news release received from the Ministry of Housing the Convert-to-Rent program offers 15 year, interest-free loans of $7000 for each self-contained unit produced. A similar amount is available for non-self-contained units. A non-self-contained unit is defined as two bedroom areas with access to bathroom and kitchen facilities.

To date almost 7,900 units have been committed across Ontario. This represents over $5 million in loans.

Inquiries regarding rentals opportunities of this new complex on Baldwin Street can be satisfied by dialing 473-4414 or 473-4216.

Dates to remember

Bus Update

by Janice Pinke

A local independent bus service has been approached by Tom Harwood and George Frantz, co-ordinators of the new service, and all are optimistic that the new transportation system should be operational the first or second week in August.

A reader call-in survey requested by Tom and George and running in the July 6th issue of the Madoc Review resulted in an overwhelming response in favour of the bus service being instituted.

The August 3rd issue of the Madoc Review will, according to Tom Harwood of the Centre Hastings Social Services, have the complete details as to the starting date of the service and its departure and arrival times.

Bus route decided

The bus route, already scheduled, will start in Madoc, continue along Crookston Road to Tweed, stopping again at Marlbank Road and then down Hwy. 37 to its final destination of Bridge and Front Streets in Belleville.

The service will accommodate anyone wishing to get to Belleville, whether it be for employment, business or recreation.

Initially, the implementation of the service was to benefit locally, those unemployed, wishing to work but unable to obtain adequate transportation to Belleville. The possibility of subsidization for people on a fixed income, and seeking employment, is conceivable.

Previously, a bus service, running daily, through Madoc, was instituted by Voyageur but was cancelled because of lack of local use. The prospect of cancellation of this service is also evident if, again, area residents ignore the benefits offered by this new TTC system from Madoc.

Poets and artists breakfast

by Priscilla Cadwell

On Saturday, July 23 at 10:30 a.m. a poet and artists' breakfast will be held at the Tweedsmuir Hotel, Tweed, Ontario.

The purpose of the breakfast is to honour present and past winners of the annual peace park poetry contest and other distinguished artists and writers of our area. Reservations may be made by telephoning Doug Dafoe at the Tweedsmuir Hotel No. 478-2710 or Priscilla Cadwell, Peace Park 478-6337. The cost of the breakfast is $2.50.

Poets are invited to bring one of their poems to be read and artists may display two of their paintings at the breakfast.

Tractor Pull This Sunday!

by Janice Pinke

The first and only tractor pull, for this area, is being held Sunday, July 24 at the Madoc Fairgrounds.

It is the only sanctioned tractor pull, meaning they will be competing for points, in the Hastings County.

CJVQ Radio is advertising the event, hopefully attracting a large turn-out. Tractor Pulls have always been successful in the past.

To be Queen

Living in Toronto I found that all Fair Queen pageants were aimed at those lucky enough to have been born with that perfect body. Most of them never had to work at losing a pound in their life. Unlike myself who once weighed 185 pounds and now weighs 120 pounds. So...

Last week Bernice Derry came into the Madoc Review to submit an ad regarding the "Miss Madoc Fair Queen" contest.

I asked her if a swimsuit competition was part of the contest. To my relief it wasn't; the contest is based on appearance, personality, charm, a short speech and an interview.

The ad reads that contestants must be between the ages of 18 and 23. Never entering a pageant of any sort in my entire life, I decided it was time.

Reality set in when I found out that being my age, 23, is too old...

Why? Because I turn 24 before August 1989.

The first prize money of $200 or the second prize money of $150 would have been real nice. Not that P would have won; I probably wouldn't have, but there is no harm in being optimistic.

So come on all you ladies who are young enough to be a participant. What an honour to become a "Fair Queen" for a year. Aileen Pidgen is the person to contact regarding an application.

Just think you will always have the knowledge and reputation of being a "Queen" for a year.

I'm old and envious.

'Good Old Days'

Dear Editor,

This letter is to inform you of what a great success our Madoc High School Reunion was on the July 1 week-end. On the Saturday afternoon many visitors came to see all of the changes made to Madoc High School since they attended and to spend some time remembering those "good old days". We were very pleased to see earlier graduates from as early as 1925.

Our Saturday night dance at the Kiwanis Centre was a well-attended, "bee-bopping" success. Numbers were down on this our third reunion perhaps because of a misunderstanding due to the organization and then cancellation of the C.H.S.S. Reunion, or because of previously made summer vacation plans. Our outdoor church service at the Madoc Twp. P.S. was a memory in itself. Rev. Ted Norris, husband of Margaret (Sinclair) spoke to us on being satisfied with our present placement in life and how we should never get discouraged but continue to give it your best and grow in understanding and faith.

Madoc High School may have changed its name twenty five years ago, but on this long week-end in July the spirit was still there and will again be recalled in another five years - July 1, 1993.

Many thanks from the committee to - Jones Pontiac, Pidgen's Radio & T.V., Johnstone's Pharmacy, Nickles Jewellery, Wilson's, Kate's Place, Whiskers, Reeve's General Store, Bob Bancroft, Kiwanis Club, Don Ash (honorary member) and all of the media in the Madoc, Belleville, Peterborough and Kingston area.

Thank you all!

The Committee,
c/o Jan Bruce (Ash)

CLASSIFIEDS

are for everyone!

There for you.

During the past weeks you have read about the possible incorporation of a bus service in Madoc. True. If everything goes as planned for Tom Harwood and George Frantz, then residents of Madoc and the surrounding areas, who wish to work full-time, but cannot find adequate transportation, will be able to use this bus service.

But what about the area seniors, or anyone else wishing to make that trip to Belleville for business or recreation?

That's what Kay Peacock and the Community Resource Project are all about.

It's clientele is restricted to seniors, youths or anyone on a fixed income.

Transportation is available to those categorized above. All you have to do is give Kay a call at 473-5076 and arrangements for transportation can be accommodated. Kay says "that a couple of days notice is sometimes required, but their have been emergencies where transportation was supplied in as quickly as 10 minutes".

Kay went on to say that they have a number of volunteer drivers from the community, who have been a great asset to the project. She says that all requests submitted to the project have been fulfilled!!!

June 8th's edition of the Madoc Review hosts an article based solely on the Community Resource Project. Kay Peacock and what services are offered. Again, briefly, they include transportation, babysitting, grocery shopping, their own Meals on Wheels locally entitled "CHAMPS" and they are always willing to try and answer any question you may have or accomodate any service you may need help with.

SENIORS NEED TRANSPORTATION

The Madoc Review received numerous phone calls from area seniors, cottagers and potential shoppers concerning the new bus service which is designed to benefit those who are seeking full-time employment in Belleville but are unable to find adequate transportation.

Kay Peacock is the person to call for any of the services listed above including TRANSPORTATION!!! Again, Kay can be reached by dialing 473-5076 or 473-4247.

Truck Heaven

A pickup truck travelling east on highway seven was totally destroyed by fire in a freak accident last Wednesday afternoon.

The truck, driven by Joanne Smith of Madoc, was travelling east along the highway when it stalled going up a hill just past the Asphalt/Otonabee Township boundary line.

Ms. Smith pulled her pickup to the side of the road and made several attempts to restart the truck to with it only backfiring. She noticed smoke issuing from under the truck's hood. The front end of the truck was soon on fire.

Passing transport truck drivers stopped to try to extinguish the blaze and firefighters from Otonabee and Asphalt were called to contain the fire.

There were no injuries. Peterborough OPP could give no cause for the fire.

Madoc Cadet goes to Alberta

Cadet Warrant Officer Cadet Darren Hill of Madoc's Army Cadet Corp has been selected to attend the National Army Cadet camp in Banff, Alberta. Darren is a member of Madoc Corp No. 385 and is one of the 162 cadets selected from across Canada.

Also attending this camp are 12 members of the United Kingdom Cadet Corp and 6 members from the Federal Republic of Germany.

All Cadets selected have the highest award within the army cadets which is the "Gold Star".

The course is one of Leadership and Challenge and includes mountaineering, survival and water craft skills. This 6 week course from July 11 to August 19, 1988 is based on similar activities to that in the "Outward Bound School".

Darren is a grade 11 student at C.H.S.S. in Madoc.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters

A child is waiting

by Liane Mac Dougall, Public Relations Officer
Centre Hastings.

There are over 20 children in Madoc, Marmora, Tweed and Stirling, who are waiting for responsible adults to volunteer their time to be their special friend. These children are Little Brothers and Sisters. They are ordinary children who want and need the guidance and friendship of a caring adult. They need a friend. Someone to talk to, to share things with, to spend some time with. Could This Person Be You?

Little Brothers and Sisters range in age from 6-16 and are usually from single parent homes. All children need adults. They need someone to help them learn social values and to guide them through the confusing years of adolescence when they are trying to forge their own identity. They are faced with questions, many of which they need help to answer. What is a man/woman? How does one behave? What is acceptable and unacceptable?

With society changing, and single parent homes becoming the rule rather than the exception, more and more children are growing up without this guidance. Many single parents realize the value of their son or daughter having an adult same sex friend to guide them. They recognize that they are not superhuman and cannot be both mother and father. They want you to fill the gap, and be a friend to their children.

Big Brothers and Big Sisters are responsible, caring adults.

age 18 to 118 who are willing to spend a minimum of 4 hours per week with a child. If you think this could be you, then let me give you a glimpse of the benefits and rewards you receive from giving a little bit of yourself to a child.

Little Jonathan ... from Stirling, applied for a Big Brother on October 31, 1985. He is still waiting.

Little Jonathan will be 8 in November. He says he would like a Big Brother so he would have someone to have fun with, someone to take him fishing and to teach him how to cast a fishing rod. Jonathan is a great bicycle enthusiast and insists his Big Brother must have a bike. If he doesn't know how to ride it, Jonathan will gladly teach him.

Jonathan likes T-ball and collects wrestling cards. His favourite dinner is chicken and french fries, and his favourite dessert is cake. Jonathan likes throwing snowballs in winter and catching worms in summer. The one thing he really hates is liver.

When asked what he would take with him if he had to go away to an unknown place, Jonathan answered: his blanket, his teddy bear and his dinky cars.

Sounds like a great kid? He is. Think you could be friends with him? He's waiting...and so are many others. If you have 4 hours per week to give to a child like Jonathan, then you can be a Big Brother or a Big Sister and make a difference in the life of a child. So please call us at 473-4247. MAKE A MOVE - BE A BIG BROTHER OR A BIG SISTER, because a child cared for today is a caring adult tomorrow.

EXPOSURE TO THE SUN

When we are exposed to the sun for great lengths of time, it can be harmful. When a film is exposed to too much light, it can be harmful. When a skier's face is exposed to the chilling mountain winds for too long a time, it can be harmful.

Being exposed to anything for a long time usually produces harmful effects. However, being exposed to more and more of God can only prove to be beneficial.

When a person decides to initiate more contact with his Creator, his quality of life is bound to increase. When a person exposes himself to the means of grace he will become a more gracious person; a more godly person.

As Christians, one of our goals is to become more godly. Achieving this goal will involve more participation in the means of grace.

A means of grace is any opportunity that provides for spiritual growth. The means of grace include activities such as: church services, Bible reading, prayer, devotional reading, Christian service, conversation with fellow believers, and fellowship and social gatherings with fellow Christians. These are but a few. There are many more.

As we expose ourselves to these means of grace, we will become more godly; we will grow as Christians. The more exposure we receive, the more growth we will see. The more growth we see, the better we will be.

Self-centeredness flees and is replaced by concern for others, when we increase our exposure to God. Our wills become bent to God's will and we take on His desires.

Nature taught me this exact lesson. As you drive toward Bloomfield on highway 62, you will notice the effect the wind has produced on the trees. The prevailing winds from Lake Ontario have bent the trees to the east. The entire life span of those trees will be spent growing on an easterly slant. Left alone, the trees would have grown straight and tall. Due to the winds, the course of the trees' growth has changed. The influencing factor was the exposure to the wind.

In the Bible, the Holy Spirit is symbolized by the wind. Exposure to the Spirit produces a changed life. When exposed to the Holy Spirit, the course of our lives will be altered for the good. If I firmly believe that God has my best interests at heart, I will want to expose myself to Him more and more. Join with me, as I expose myself to more of God, and together we will grow to be more like Him.

Queensboro Women's Institute

by Evelyn Lynn

Queensborough - On July 13 the Queensborough Women's Institute sponsored a pie and ice cream social for the community beginning at 7 p.m. There were games for the children in the early evening. The hall was decorated with sweetpeas provided by Mrs. Frank O'Rourke, also as this was our 40th anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Merv. Lees lent us their 40th anniversary cake for the evening.

After everyone had finished with the pie and ice cream there was a short program. Rebecca and Jeremy Best entertained with some lively piano and violin music and then we had community singing with Mrs. Monica Ward at the piano. This was a very successful evening and all the proceeds are to go to the Hotel Dieu Hospital Cat Scan Fund in Kingston.

Our Institute was formed on May 14, 1948 with Mrs. Ernest Moore and Mrs. S. R. Beatty of Madoc installing the first officers. Several of the people who were charter members still belong to the Institute.

MP Bill Vankoughnet supports Free Trade

Ottawa - Bill Vankoughnet, M.P. for Hastings-Frontenac-Lennox and Addington today spoke in the House of Commons in support of the Free Trade Agreement between Canada and the United States and its significance in Hastings-Frontenac-Lennox and Addington.

"It is important that people understand the benefits of free trade, the potential it offers for growth, for investment and for jobs", said Mr. Vankoughnet.

The free trade agreement negotiated with the United States presents eastern Ontario with its greatest opportunity ever to catch up with other parts of Ontario and other manufacturing sectors.

Over 1,220,000 jobs have been created in 1984. In Hastings-Frontenac-Lennox and Addington, unemployment is now at its lowest point in over a decade. With such new industries as Goodyear and D & E Wood and the multiplier effect that this will have, unemployment will be reduced and new economic activities will be created.

The new rules governing services and regarding temporary work in the U.S. will put Canada's service industries and professionals on a level playing field. "There is no part of Canada better positioned to seize these opportunities than the border regions of Eastern Ontario", said Mr. Vankoughnet.

This agreement will enable the manufacturing sector to grow from its Canadian base, encouraging new investment in world-scale Canadian enterprises. Ontario's economy was built on trade with the U.S. To-day, 90 percent of Ontario's exports go to the U.S. In turn, the U.S. provides 83 percent of Ontario's imports.

In addition to the benefits offered by free trade's phase-out of tariffs over 10 years, Canada stands to gain from the $4 billion U.S. government purchasing market which will now be opened to Ontario firms. This is of particular importance to eastern Ontario. "I am convinced that the days of eastern Ontario being short-changed in manufacturing and employment opportunities are numbered", said Mr. Vankoughnet.

Another opportunity lies in resource industries, both agriculture and forestry. The marketing board systems with regulated returns and quota allocation are preserved under the free trade agreement. Dairy farmers will continue to enjoy the income stability of long term federal dairy policy which the Government has implemented.

In the forestry sector, industry should benefit from the gradual reduction of tariffs, barriers which have prevented the processing of wood even further prior to export-exporting jobs. Value added processing creates the potential for more jobs to be created in Ontario.

A very important factor in the future development of eastern Ontario is small business development. The federal government has introduced a variety of policies since 1982 to encourage small business development in Canada. We believe that the free trade agreement will further stimulate this growth.

Secure access to the U.S. market means that future Canadian business growth can take place here in Canada. It means an end to the exodus of eastern Ontario firms when wanting to expand, setting up shop across the border as a means of getting around U.S. trade barriers.

I believe free trade is eastern Ontario's best bet for greater diversification and more growth. The greatest danger to our Canadian way of life lies not in the prosperity of free trade, but lies in the poverty of protectionism, and our inability to afford regional development and social and cultural programs which reflect Canadian values", said Mr. Vankoughnet.

The man with the "Heart of Gold"

by Brian Carruthers

A little while back Air Canada was sponsoring a project to honour citizens who had done something special or were generally known to help out people with an award called the "Heart of Gold."

Robert "Chris" Hillier decided that he knew some he thought was worthy of this award, so he nominated his father-in-law, Thomas J. Convey of Churchill St., Campbellford.

"I nominated Tom because he is the kind of person everyone should be like: He is nice, honest, very pleasant and has never said anything bad about anyone as long as I have known him," said Mr. Hillier.

Tom Convey is 86 years old, the father of 12 children and he left school after grade seven, when he was 12 years-of-age, because his father had died and he had to help his mother run the family farm, which was in the Warkworth area, and look after his brother and three sisters.

Tom ran the farm until he was 76 and also was active in the community as a school trustee and the president of the Holy Name Society and The Holstein Breeders Board.

One incident that so Convey's character, according to Hillier is, "Tom received a very large phone bill. While he was talking to Bell Canada and explaining the trouble he would have getting to the bank because he had just lost his licence because of age. He lived in Campbellford, but did his banking in Warkworth. Right then and there Bell cut him off and his phone. This would have really upset me but not Tom. He just took it in stride. He paid the bill and acted as though nothing had ever happened. He never lost his cool at all."

Hillier continued, "he is just a very pleasant person to be with at all times. He is a person I would like to become. Too bad we don't have more people like him. If we did, we'd have a better world."

More Abled Than Disabled by Barbara Pealow

Queenie sets an example

Reprinted with permission from Linda Crabtree, writer of her column "Access" for "The Standard Newspaper" in St. Catharine's, Ont.

I first met Queenie (not her real name) when she walked up to me like many of you do, while I was shopping. She introduced herself and told me she'd like to talk to me about my column.

I wondered for a second what this very healthy looking specimen, wearing high heels and snappy black stockings on two good legs, would want with me.

However, I learned a long time ago that looks can be deceiving and, in this case, you'd never guess this smart looking blonde with the crack will is a double amputee.

Having been plagued by angina for years, Queenie underwent a triple heart bypass in 1982 and something went wrong. Circulation was cut off to her lower extremities. Inactive grangrene set in and four months after her operation, she was told she'd have to have her legs amputated if she ever wanted to walk again.

"I could have kept part of one leg; it was one hell of a decision," she said with an unusual solemnness. "My husband and I lost a few nights sleep then, I'll tell you."

Queenie opted to have both legs off just below the knee and it took five weeks of fitting and therapy at Chedoke Hospital in Hamilton before she was up and dancing again, but dance she did.

"I had to physically learn to put the legs on and take them off, it was a gradual thing," she said, "... a lot of swearing helped."

Great advances have been made since the artificial legs were made that most of us can envision. I always thought they were ungainly things that had to be strapped on and looked like shiny plastic, but in Queenie's case they go on almost by suction and she can have them off and on in a flash. They are also a good flesh color and soft to the touch.

She does all her own housework and her floors shine. "I take off my legs to do the floors and hope to hell nobody comes to the door." Because, as her friend said, "She's ever so little without her legs."

"The salesmen who phone are the biggest pain," she said. "The phone rings and I have to crawl on my knees to get it and there they are trying to sell me something I don't want."

Queenie's husband is very handy around the house. He installed a new shower equipped with everything enabling her to shower without her legs. A built-in washer and dryer, off the new games room, makes it easier for her to do laundry.

The entrance of the house has only one step and a sturdy railing. She finds that first big step into a bus difficult although she drives her hand control equipped car. In fact, she often drives others to Chedoke for fittings.

She's always been a helper and having two false legs hasn't slowed her down. She still helps an elderly couple with meals, and for fun she volunteers a couple of times a week to help out at the rehabilitation centre snack bar.

"I'm not shy about my legs," she said. "I'll gladly slide down my slacks to show a fellow amputee how it's done. After all, I can't pull them up far enough to get a good look and we're all in the same boat."

There must be something that you can't do now, I asked. "Yes there is, I can't skate because my husband won't let me and I can't ride a bicycle because he gave it away." HE gave MY bicycle away," she said with incredulity!!

We laughed as she and her friends prepared to head out for a game of bowling. She has a pair of flat-footed legs to allow a good grip on the floor of the lane. The legs with the feet that wear the high heels are for dress-up.

"They have feet with flexible ankles now," she smiled. "I'm going to apply for a pair soon." The doctor has to okay them and then I get refitted. I'll have to do some fast talking because double amputees don't usually get prosthetics with moveable ankles. You have to learn to walk all over again. I hope to be the first."

She then told me about the time she was travelling on an AMTRAK train to New York City when a very proper lady got on the train and began swiping at the seats with her hands.

Queenie had found there wasn't enough room between the seats and her ankles didn't bend to accommodate her legs, so she had taken them off and put them on the seat beside her. As the woman approached and spied the seat with legs she leaned over and quietly said,

"I think you need this seat more than I do!"

Barbara's Comment:

Linda Crabtree

Linda and I have the same things in common. We both have Charcot Marie Tooth Syndrome. Linda also has her own column "Access" in The Standard newspaper, St. Catharine's, Ontario.

She is now the Founder and President of C.M.T. International in St. Catharine's. According to the last Dec. C.M.T. Newsletter, our membership list nears the 3,000 mark, although not all are active.

But somewhere out there, are more C.M.T.s who don't want to be known. Why? We know and we understand. I have heard that there are about three or four cases around this area.

I would be just great if you could give Linda a call (416) 937-3851 or write Linda Crabtree, C.M.T. International, 34 Bayview Dr., St. Catharine's, Ontario, Canada L2N 4Y6.

Come on, give it a try. Just to let us know that there are more of us. Maybe we don't have to stand alone, but we can reach out and take a hold of our life, hands in hands, with our heads up and SMILE.

Hints from C.M.T. Newsletter:

John Meeker of Oregon exercises his hands to keep them as flexible and strong as possible.

Using a large, soft Nerf Ball, he squeezes it about 200 times with each hand each morning. The other exercise he does is hold a sheet of newspaper by the corner with thumb and forefinger at arms-length.

"Without any other assistance," he says, "I begin to crumble it into a ball. Keep working the paper into a ball until you can reduce it in size to where if you turned the back of your hand to someone the paper ball is almost hidden from view."

"This is harder than it sounds and a person is not likely to do it successfully the first time, but it is good exercise for the hands and arms."

I add, if your hands tire easily, you may find hand and arm exercises leave you little strength to do anything else. Use common sense.

Farmers benefit from tax changes

Farmers are going to benefit greatly from the tax changes being proposed by the federal government.

The changes - part of the 500-page Ways and Means Motion recently tabled by Finance Minister Michael Wilson to amend the Income Tax Act - are the end product of long consultations with the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and other farm organizations.

Many of the final provisions, in fact, represent a government about-face from the original proposals contained in the White Paper on Tax Reform released last year.

Cash accounting, initially targeted for abolition by Finance Canada, is being retained. "This is welcome news for the 90 per cent of Canadian farmers who depend on it. Not only does cash accounting give producers greater flexibility, it saves them between $300-1000, in accountant's fees to start with," said Brigid Pyke, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

Pyke and the OFA led a vigorous national lobbying effort to stop the federal move to get rid of cash accounting.

Wilson also revealed that the government will not proceed with either the Profit Test (to distinguish between a farmer and a non-farmer) and the Gross Revenue Test (to distinguish between a full-time and a part-time farmer) in determining the tax treatment of income tax filers.

This is another victory for farm organizations which convinced Finance Canada that the tests would be ineffective and unworkable.

The ability of farm tax filers to claim losses against other income has also been adjusted favorably. Farmers for whom farming is a secondary business will be able to claim losses to a maximum of $2750, up from the current $500.

Full-time farmers can claim their total farm losses against other income.

The farming community, likewise, hailed the government announcement extending the flexible livestock inventory provision to all commodities.

As it now stands, the provision allows a farmer to take into income this year any amount between zero and the fair market value of his livestock on hand, and subtract that out of income in a subsequent year.

With the extension of this provision to all commodities, more farmers will have a flexible mechanism to average income through a number of crop years.

To protect the tax system from being used to finance inventory build-up, the government is still going to require a purchased inventory adjustment. However, this will only apply to farmers who register losses based on cash accounting.

"When you consider that Ottawa, a month and a half ago, also conceded that proceeds from the sale of quota will now qualify for the $500,000 capital gains exemption, farmers and their farm organizations have come out of this tax reform exercise with very good results," said OFA president Brigid Pyke.

Diamonds in Universe

by Nigel Banse and Jim Hunt College of Physical Science
University of Guelph

Astronomers from the University of Chicago have found that certain types of stars shed tiny diamonds into space, a discovery that suggests diamonds may actually be fairly common in the universe.

The diamonds reported by the Chicago researchers are so small that astronomer Edward Anders described them as "suitable for an amoeba's engagement ring".

tegration of an old and highly compressed star.

The diamonds are small because the carbon from which they were formed was shot off at high speed, and the diamond had no time to grow. They think the larger diamonds were formed more slowly in the outer reaches of a red giant, a kind of middle-aged star that is very common in the universe.

Why should any star shed carbon into space? It is known that stars get their energy from nuclear reactions where small atoms coalesce into larger ones. Our sun is a relatively young star, and its energy comes mostly from the conversion of hydrogen (the lightest element of all) into helium (the next lightest).

Older stars that have used up all their hydrogen produce increasingly heavy elements. Carbon is not very far up this scale, and is formed quite abundantly. Xenon is heavier still and is much less abundant.

What is known is why these stars produce diamond rather than graphite, and never a mixture of the two. As yet, there are not even any theories on this question.

We welcome questions and ideas for future columns. Write to the authors, c/o the dean's office, College of Physical Science, University of Guelph, Guelph, Ontario N1G 2W1.

CLASSIFIEDS are for everyone!

Scene

Ken Yarrow

This week's article is very brief and, I hope, to the point.

In my opinion, we do not need or want a dumpsite adjacent to the Moira River in Rawdon Township.

Number one: we do not need any more risk to the Moira, pollution wise.

Secondly, there is a better and safer solution.

The steering committee has been informed by Trent Valley that they will supply a site at Glen Miller for an incinerator, in addition to purchasing all the steam produced.

Modern technology can eliminate harmful pollutants from burning household garbage. We hear only about the obsolete and the ones without proper controls. It is something like comparing a 1920 Ford to a 1988 model - absolutely ridiculous.

As well, the paper industry will purchase all reusable paper products; a note of caution - not all paper products are recyclable; therefore, there will still be combustible material.

The reason for bringing the subject up again, is that I hear the stage two report is going to the public, finally, in the near future. This will indicate, I am told, the direction intended to be taken by the committee.

As a concerned person, I think you should all plan to attend the public airing of this document, produced at great public expense, and be prepared to question it thoroughly.

It is our environment and should not be allowed to be a political football for the politician. Yes, I am in local municipal government, but I have never let that affect my viewpoint, public or otherwise, in trying to seek the best for the general welfare of all people.

I feel that it would be a grand thing for the politicians to be able to tell their people in the South that they are going to get rid of their garbage in what they call "the boondocks", at no risk to the southern people.

Please think seriously about these things. A wrong decision now will be leaching around us for a long time to come.

The Ontario Ministry of Northern Development and Mines maintains a Resident Geologist's office in Tweed in the same building as Ministry of Natural Resources. The Resident Geologist provides services for all of Southeastern Ontario.

Services:

The Resident Geologist and his staff provide technical consultation and geological information both in the field and in the office, to companies and individuals engaged in mineral exploration and mining development. A variety of information sources are available for use by clients, including:

1. Assessment Files containing records of exploration activity.

2. Mineral Deposits Files containing information about most mineral occurrences in Southeastern Ontario.

3. A library of geological reports and maps.

Geological maps and reports, claim maps, prospector's licences and claim tags are available for purchase.

The Resident Geologist maintains Diamond Drill Core Libraries at Bancroft and Tweed. These facilities house collections of exploration drill core which are used by companies and individuals doing exploration in the area. Rock cutting and core splitting equipment is available for use at the core libraries, along with drill logs and other information about the core.

Current Projects:

A number of projects designed to stimulate mineral development are being carried out from the resident Geologist's office. These projects are being funded under the Canada-Ontario Mineral Development Agreement, which is a subsidiary agreement to the Economic and Regional Development Agreement signed by the Economic and Regional Development Agreement signed by the governments of Canada and Ontario. The projects include:

1. Mapping, sampling and testing of deposits of industrial minerals and refractory minerals, including wollastonite, talc, sillimanite, graphite and vermiculite.

2. Mapping of host rocks for veins containing fluorite, barite, calcite and lead.

3. Mapping, sampling and testing of deposits of granite and marble suitable for building stone.

The staff Geophysicist is providing support for the fluorite project, and for mineral aggregates studies conducted by Ministry of Natural Resources.

Summer boating safety launched

Toronto, - The Brewers of Ontario launched their summer '88 responsible use poster campaign, recently, with the presentation of the first copies to the Hon. Joan Smith, Solicitor General of Ontario and to OPP Commissioner Tom O'Grady aboard an OPP patrol boat at Ontario Place.

The "Think Before You Drink" poster was presented by Mr. Jan Westcott, Executive Director of the Brewers of Ontario, and is part of the brewers' commitment - collectively and as individual companies - to promote the responsible use of alcohol.

"I am pleased to be able to assist this program in improving the awareness of the dangers of boating and drinking, and believe this program will go a long way in helping to make boating safer in Ontario," said Joan Smith, Solicitor General.

"The Brewers of Ontario are encouraged by the response to the "Think Before You Drink" poster and are confident that it will be an effective tool in promoting the responsible consumption of alcohol," said Jan Westcott. "We are also grateful for the support of the Solicitor General and Commissioner O'Grady."

Approximately 8,000 posters will be distributed throughout Ontario to special interest groups including marinas, yacht clubs, hospitals, resorts, colleges, universities and safety groups, as well as prominently displayed in more than 450 Brewers Retail stores across the province.

Cake club meet

The June meeting of the Quinte Cake Club was held at the home of Mrs. Edith Bailey, Roslin. Following a Pot Luck Supper, Mrs. Bailey brought the meeting to order. Mrs. Marj Bedford from the Red Cross was the Cake Club's special guest. Miss Bailey on behalf of the Cake Club presented, presented Mrs. Bedford with four bath seats for the elderly. These bath seats have been purchased with the proceeds received from the recent bus trips the Club has sponsored. The bath seats will be used by the Red Cross to help the elderly in Prince Edward and Quinte areas.

The Cake Club has decided to sponsor more bus trips to help out with more community projects. The trips decided upon over the summer months are: a trip to Niagara Falls and Marineland, and one in August to Upper Canada Village. These will be family trips and will be open to the public. The proceeds will go towards more equipment for the Red Cross or equipment for the Newborn Department or Belleville General Hospital.

The club would like to thank each and every patron for their support in helping them help their community.

After a summer break, the Quinte Cake Club will meet in September at the home of Mrs. Joyce Colmar, RR2 Stirling.

Garbage provides energy

by Kate Sutherland and Jenny Fraser

Since the early 1970s, more than 300 towns and cities across North America have killed two birds with one stone by building energy from waste plants - high tech monsters which devour mountains of unwanted garbage and churn out cheap energy.

With the cost of dumping garbage skyrocketing, and as many communities just plain run out of landfill sites, energy from waste schemes are gaining added appeal.

But high capital costs, greater awareness of the environmental dangers in burning municipal refuse, and strong public support for alternative waste management strategies are forcing municipalities to look again.

The refuse problem is a time bomb ticking away ominously in communities across Canada, as rising environmental standards and public opposition thwart new landfill sites for the two kilograms of solid waste produced daily for every person in the country.

But the landfill crises municipalities now face - while a long time coming - were not as major a factor a decade ago. Instead, the driving force behind the early enthusiasm for energy from waste (EFW) was its potential to substitute for fossil fuels.

Energy-poor Ontario - anxious for home-grown fuel - was the first province to back the garbage-to-gold scheme with a 1980 EFW program, designed to spawn an industry able to stand alone. But the industry did not blossom in Ontario, or elsewhere in Canada, even with federal grants for up to 20 per cent of capital costs.

The chief reason was economics: compared to falling energy costs, EFW was too expensive.

"We used to expect EFW plants to recover two-thirds of their costs from energy sales," recalls Carmen Chisamore, a force behind the Ontario Ministry of Energy's EFW program, who remembers when everyone agreed that oil was bound to hit $60-70 a barrel by the mid-1990s.

"But EFW is becoming, once more, a viable option as landfill prices soar. Increased dumping fees in the past several years have more than compensated for the decline in energy prices," he adds, noting that the typical EFW champion now touts waste reduction - not energy - as its raison d'être.

Though burning garbage reduces its volume by up to 90% - greatly extending the life of existing landfill sites - federal government studies suggest that EFW makes economic sense only for larger municipalities able to bear the capital costs and only then if they suffer from high landfill costs.

While for these municipalities the economics may seem attractive, other aspects of EFW make it less so.

Concerns about the environmental and health effects of EFW emissions - including acid gases and such toxic pollutants as lead, cadmium, mercury and dioxins - are mounting.

Citizens' groups have opposed every plant that has been proposed, forcing lengthy reviews for project proposals in cities like Toronto, London and Brampton. The municipalities of Nanaimo, B.C., Guelph, Halton, Kingston and Peel, with EFW projects at various stages of development, can expect the same treatment.

Environmentalists like Pollution Probe's Thomas Rahn are not impressed with the state-of-the-art technology used to control pollution in new EFW plants.

"Emission standards are set in accordance with the best technology available, not by looking at effects on health and on the food chain," he says.

"EFW plants dump a whole range of pollutants into the air, and the ash from incinerators is so contaminated with heavy metals that it has to be classified as hazardous waste. Energy from waste plants just turn a waste management problem into a hazardous waste problem and an air pollution problem."

Pressure from environmental groups for greater caution on the EFW front - coupled with the near-universal citizens' demand that governments "consider all the alternatives" in managing waste - has forced municipalities across the country back to the drawing board.

The result has been renewed interest in innovative, environmentally sound, low-tech ways to reduce the size of the garbage mountain communities have to contend with.

EFW no longer seen as a panacea, has become but one tool in the waste management kit bag - one that is unlikely to be used much as pressure from citizens concerned about the environment grows in the future.

Additional Cancer funding

the ministry," Mrs. Caplan added.

In August 1986, $200 million in new funding for major cancer projects was committed to redeveloping the Princess Margaret Hospital and two regional cancer clinics in Hamilton and London, as well as construction of a new clinic in Sudbury.

To ensure Ontario's efforts at battling cancer are as effective as possible, and in line with the reorganization of the Ministry of Health, Mrs. Caplan also announced that she is creating the position of cancer care co-ordinator for the province to oversee the future direction of all aspects of cancer prevention and treatment.

As well, the ministry is expecting to receive a consultant's report, commissioned last March, dealing with the long-considered merger of OCI and OCTRF. The new co-ordinator will take an active role in implementing this report.

The co-ordinator will also review funding of all cancer care projects both within hospitals and those provided through OCI/OCTRF. Mrs. Caplan said.

Fifty per cent of cancer patients in Ontario receive treatment in the OCI-OCTRF system; the rest are seen by doctors working in hospitals outside the system.

Cancer is one of the leading causes of death in Ontario, Mrs. Caplan said. "It affects people of all ages, and has touched most of us personally through friends and relatives. Escalating the war against cancer has priority status in

Summer Sampler offered

This August, Lang Pioneer Village will be offering one-day workshops for adults on Fridays and some programs for children too. Four workshops are being offered to adults. Participants ("Summer Sampler" - August 5 and 19) will design and make traditional samplers under the guidance of the Village's most skilled needleworker, Janet vanDomselaer.

"Dinner at the Village Inn" (Aug. 5 and 26) offers the opportunity to prepare a hearty 19th century feast - and to gather round the candle-lit harvest table to enjoy the fruits of the labor.

The last workshop, "Herbal Delights" (August 26), combines practical information on growing herbs with hands-on experience in using them to make herb vinegars, teas, cosmetics and moth-repelling bags.

Children have their own special days. On our "Pioneer Picnic" days (August 9, 23) children eight to 10 years old prepare food and drink, make a pioneer toy, and take part in both quiet and active games.

There are two programs for those aged 10 to 14. In "Come Fly a Kite" (August 11 and 25), participants prepare food and drink for a picnic and construct, decorate and fly a kite.

NE THIRD OF THE WAY - Bryce Allen (c), past president, of Campbellford and District Association for Community Living accepts a cheque for $1551 from Tom Holmes (r), co-chairman along with Rodger Oliver, of the seventh annual Les Baker Golf tournament. While that is going on Les Baker paints the new total on the ARC thermometer. The new total is $11,515 which is about one third of the CDACL goal of $35,000.

Riders change schedule

The Hill and Valley Trail Riders club will now be holding all rides on the fourth Saturday of the month (April through September) and all meetings the third Tuesday of the month (October through April.) It is hoped this schedule will make easier for all those interested.

The meetings will be held at the Robert Empey Hall on Highway 7, west of the lights in Marmora at 7:30 p.m. Guest speakers include: veterans, blacksmiths, feed specialists, trainers, and tack specialists.

The club is also responsible for the organization of the Marmora Santa Claus Parade and would like any help or suggestions with it.

Our next trail ride is scheduled for Saturday, July 23, leaving from Ralph Nicholson's home on Centre Line Rd at 11 a.m. (signs will be posted from the four corners in Marmora.) The trail will be the same one taken for the QUINTRA ride and hopefully the weather will co-operate, as it is a great ride.

On Saturday, August 27, the trail ride will be leaving from Donna Acton's home on Tiffin Rd. We are planning a Scavenger Hunt, followed by a barbecue so don't miss it.

Most of the ride are a slow paced three hour trip through varied terrain, however, our September ride will be a 5 1/2 hour run, so get prepared! Join in on some non-competitive relaxing rides. A good time is guaranteed.

WANTED: Big Brothers & Sisters

by Janice Pinke

Last week we ran the last in a series of articles submitted to us by the Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Madoc.

I feel such a worth while cause deserves a whole lot of publicity.

All is required from yourself is 3 or 4 hours per week. Your editor is looking into the possibility of becoming a big sis to a little girl, age 7, from Marmora. Why not? I'm busy but what's 4 hours - really!

HOW TO BECOME ONE

First of all you must fill out an application which is available by mail or can be picked up at their office located above Madoc's Health Unit. In the application are questions pertaining to age preference, your interests and hobbies, your occupation and so on.

Once the application is received by the Big Brothers/Sisters office, you, the applicant are called for an interview at a place convenient for you. Executive Director, Margaret Cooper, conducts the interviews and such questions like why you want to be a Big Brother/Sister are reviewed.

Three references are required. They can be from your doctor, lawyer, teacher, a local store owner; it must be someone recognized in your community.

Another interview is then required in the home of the applicant.

If satisfied, all information gathered on the applicant is given to a screening committee which is made up of the Board members of Big Brother and Big Sisters of Madoc.

IF YOU QUALIFY

The matching process begins. Big sis' for 'lil sis' and big bro's for 'lil bro's. Liane MacDougall from the agency says that "they don't want to match a bookworm with an outdoorsy person". It must be a child with similar interests.

Once the matching process is completed, the friendship is monitored closely for the first 3 to 6 months. The main objective being that all three parties (the child, the child's family and the applicant) are happy.

And that's it. Liane says that usually after the 6 month period everything is running smoothly and a bond has been established between the duo.

WHAT'S
4 HOURS
A WEEK!

So, please, if you have that extra time, why not! You will brighten some child's life just by being there. It means so much to them. The application process takes about 3 weeks and personally I have conveyed my interest in becoming a Big Sister. Don't let someone else do it for you. Lend some time.

Trust Park "Not necessary"

by Janice Pinke

A motion carried by Hungerford Township Council at their regular meeting Thursday, July 14th, found them to be in unanimous opposition to the establishment of the proposed Madawaska Highlands Regional Trust park.

The motion moved by Deputy Reeve Tom White read: "THAT the Township Council unanimously objects to the Madawaska Trust proposal, as we feel that the Ministry of Natural Resources and Ministry of Environment are regulating the area adequately and that any change regarding this would have a devastating effect on all people in the area including our own Municipality, for e.g., loss of employment, and an adverse effect on tourism, recreation, hunting and fishing, not to mention the effect on small businesses in the area."

Deputy Reeve Tom White told the Madoc Review that copies of the objection were forwarded to MPP Jim Pollack, MNR Minister Vincent Kerri and to the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters (OFAH).

received by Hungerford Township.

The OFAH has responded on paper to the Canadian Parks and Wilderness Society, objecting to their proposal of the establishment of the park.

In the letter addressed to T. Mosquin, president of the society, Rick Morgan, Executive VP for the OFAH says that "in short, we are unanimous in our opposition to your proposal for a multitude of reasons".

The 3 page letter then points out various reasons for objecting to the proposal. Two (a) of the letter states "on page 4 (of the Society's proposal) you say your Trust would permit hunting and trapping to continue in most areas. Currently, both exist in virtually all of the area. You definitely want to ban some of the existing hunting and trapping".

In the same letter nine (b) states "we also do not agree with your proposal to set aside lakes which would be permanently closed to fishing".

At the end of the letter Rick Morgan writes "In fact, your Trust Authority could actually be counterproductive as its members might ignore the general public and merely pursue their own passions".

Born only 10 years ago...

Local boy has cancer

Ever had a dream?
Was it to go to Canada's Wonderland or to visit Kingston's 1000 Islands?

Probably not, these dreams seem so modest to one who has their whole life ahead of them, however these are Ricky's dreams.

Ricky is 10 years old, lives in Marmora, and has cancer. It's not important to know his last name; all that is important is for you to know the inevitable ending attributed with cancer.

Help make Ricky's dreams come true. The Toronto Dominion Bank in Marmora has opened up an account for any donations and donation jars are visible in nearly every store in Marmora.

The Madoc Review located at 74 Durham St. South, will also be forwarding any donations received, to "Ricky's Dream Fund".

Swallowing my pride: not everyone reads editorials. Please help by spreading the word to everyone and anyone. You have to know that all monies would be, and are, greatly appreciated.

To help raise additional donations for Ricky's Dream Fund a Variety Show is being held at the Lion's Centre in Marmora, August 7th, starting at 1:30 p.m. The show will feature The Mundell's and South Bound Express. Donations will only be accepted at the door.

Thank you to all who lend a word, a hand, and a heart!

Firefighter of the Week

Cliff Preston has been on the Madoc Village Fire Department for the past 5 years. He assists in the operation of Pumper Truck No. 1 and moved to Madoc from Aurora, 6 years ago. He currently works at the Madoc IGA on a full-time basis. Cliff has 4 children, one in Madoc, one in Belleville and two in Toronto.

Lights, camera, action.

A CBC television production crew were in Belleville last week for three days to document former bass guitarist of the Kinks, Peter Kinnes who now resides in Belleville as a commercial artist and cartoonist.

He will be featured in the new television show "On the Road" when the CBC network airs the program in the fall. The show will be starting on Oct 6 and will be hosted by Wayne Ronstal, country singer and performer.

On the Road was formerly called "Out of the way" and ran for 13 weeks last year on CBC. "On the Road originated from an Ottawa Valley show that dealt with the local scene, in and around the Ottawa Region. It had eight years of local life," says Andy Little, one of the three CBC field-producers for the program.

"We're looking at what he's doing these days. He is living an interesting life here in Belleville. We will also be looking at the early days in the 60's and 70's of Kinnes career, when he was a member of the Kinks," Little says.

The first part of the program will show footage of Kinnes with the Kinks and the latter part will concentrate on his life here now "Little added.

Kinnes has lived in Belleville off and on he says since 1980. He lives with his wife.

Arriving Alive

Funded by the government office of Attorney General Ian Scott, the "Arrive Alive" campaign is aimed at improving community awareness regarding the fact that alcohol related accidents are at a peak during the summer months.

Diane, a Springbrook resident, and Alice, a resident of Madoc, were selected to represent the Arrive Alive Program at CHSS because of their involvement with the SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) program at the school.

They are hoping to institute a "designated driver" program within the local hotels. Both feel free soft drinks should be mandatory for those in the bar and who are not drinking.

The "Arrive Alive" campaign is a provincial program which has been running for the past 2 years. There are 40 projects of this kind currently running throughout Ontario.

Upcoming events to raise community awareness include an alcohol-free dance at the Tweed Pavilion August 20th. The dance is open to anybody, and it will begin at 10 p.m. and end at 2 a.m.

Diane and Alice will also be attending those fairs held during the summer months, such as the Tweed, Stirling and Marmora Fairs.

Balloon Launch

Madoc Ball Park

This Thursday Diane and Alice and the Arrive Alive campaign will participate in a province-wide balloon launch to begin at 11:45 a.m. at the Madoc Ball Park. Those in attendance will include MPP Jim Pollock, MP Bill Vankoughnet, and Madoc's Reeve Tom Deline. Everyone is invited to attend and support the "Arrive Alive '88" campaign. Inscribed on the balloons is "If you drink, don't drive".

Anyone wishing to utilize the "Arrive Alive" campaign can contact Diane Stiles at Alice Nickerson (l) and Diane Stiles, both students from CHSS, have been chosen to represent the "Arrive Alive '88" campaign in our area. The campaign is run during the summer months when alcohol related accidents are at their peak.

395-2206 or Alice Nickerson at 473-4136.

The week of August 14th to the 20th has been designated, on a provincial scale, as "Arrive Alive Week". Events for the week are still in the planning stages.

By-law officer could prove beneficial

by Janice Pinke

My descent into Madoc and the four corners, left me battling numerous vehicles that had been double parked, reducing traffic to one lane.

Unfortunately, laws governing this and other minor offences are instituted by our municipality and are known as "by-laws".

Since the Village of Madoc does not have a by-law enforcement officer, these drivers are free to park where they want with usually no penalty other than the tongue of a concerned pedestrian or driver.

According to our Madoc OPP detachment, the Ontario

Provincial Police don't enforce by-laws unless contracted to do so.

Parking violations, noise control and property standards are a few of the many by-laws which are enforced by by-law officers.

The Village of Madoc does not have a by-law officer.

Marmora does! John Szczucki is the Building Inspector and part-time by-law enforcement officer. According to their Village office; it works!

KATHY BRONSON

Conference on a resolution to form a Canadian General Conference independent of the American based denomination. The result of the vote will be known later this month when it is added to the vote from the other two Canadian Conferences.

Methodists celebrate 93rd conference

Pastors and delegates were riding high after four days of business and inspiration at the Ninety-Third sitting of the Canada East Conference of the Free Methodist Church in Canada. The more than 150 conference members met June 24-28 at Wesley Acres Camp near Bloomfield, Ontario, for the annual meeting.

A key contributor to the buoyant spirits was the discussion and vote on a resolution to form a Canadian General Conference independent of the American based denomination. If approved, the resolution will allow Canadian Free Methodists to concentrate more of their funds and personnel on the national church. The result of the vote will be known later this month after it is added to the vote from the two other Canadian conferences.

Running for approximately the last 17 years has been a learn-to-swim program for area residents. This session was held in Mr. & Mrs. Ashton's pool on Durham St. on Wednesday morning. Other evening sessions are held at the residence of Mr. & Mrs. Kincaid.

Learn-to-swim

Everyone should learn how to swim, what with all the water we have here.

During the summer months Aileen Pigden arranges swimming classes for area kids that take place in Madoc residents swimming pools.

This year Karen Wiggins and Tish Francis are the head swimming instructors. Jennifer Livingston is also on hand to assist with the lessons.

The classes cost $21 for 4 weeks or $55 per family for a 4 week session. Each class is a half hour in length and lessons from tadpoles to white swimmers are taught.

At the end of each 4 week session, all registrants and their parents are invited to attend a "Splash Party" at which time badges are presented to those who earned the honour of continuing onto the next level.

Evening classes are also available to those adults wishing to learn how to swim better.

National Safety Week

JULY 25-31, 1988

Statistics just released by the Canada Safety Council show that 104 Canadians died in farm-related accidents in 1986.

Provincially, Ontario was the highest with 30% of all farm deaths, followed by Saskatchewan (21%), Alberta (20%), and Quebec (11%). More than 60% were industrial-type accidents, most involving the use of agricultural machinery.

There has been a significant and steady decrease in the number of persons killed in farm accidents in recent years. From 1976 to 1986, farm fatalities dropped from 190 annually, representing a 45% reduction in the same 11-year period.

Every year, since 1973, the Canada Safety Council, in cooperation with Agriculture Canada and Provincial Safety Councils, has sponsored National Farm Safety Week, a public awareness campaign which aims to promote safer work practices on Canadian farms.

The theme for this year's campaign, "You Can Improve Farm Safety," draws attention to the important role individual farmers and their families can play in improving the safety and efficiency of their own operation.

Do you conduct regular safety checks of your farm fields, animal facilities, grain and silage storage areas, workshops, equipment and equipment storage areas, and fuel and chemical storage areas? Take note of all situations that could lead to an accident or injury. Repair, post, caution or instruction signs, or use personal protective equipment where these measures are called for.

National Farm Safety Week runs from July 25-31. For information, contact the Canada Safety Council, 1765 St. Laurent Blvd., Ottawa, Ontario K1G 3V4.

LEASING WITH AN OPTION TO BUY

by Aaron Patriquin

Bishop Donald Bastian of the Free Methodist Church has just published a new book entitled, "Counterfeit". The subtitle of the book reads, "The Lie of Living Together Unmarried". It is a timely book for today's dilemma.

After reading the Bishop's book, I have decided to write a series of articles on this modern day phenomenon. First, a few qualifying remarks are in order.

In the weeks ahead, it will become increasingly clear that I present the position that marriage is sacred and that living together unmarried falls short of God's plan for a man and a woman. Even though I may speak in opposition to the practice of living together, I am in no way speaking against its practitioners. You are living together unmarried, God loves you and I love you. My intent in writing is that you, the reader, may be better informed and more able to meet head on the issue of living together.

Who are the people involved? Are they young? Are they old? Are they both?

To answer these questions truthfully we would need to admit that living together has permeated every age category. Common-law relationships have become viable alternatives to both old and young.

What is the number of persons involved in live-in situations? If we tie together those reporting to the U.S. and Canadian actuaries, we would arrive at approximately 5 million persons. How many more relationships go unreported? If we add to count the cars in the driveways of weekend, holiday, and business trip relationships, five million may be just the tip of the iceberg.

Is the church affected?

The answer is an unequivocal "yes". There is no doubt that the church is feeling the results of this phenomenon. I have endeavored to give you the range, scope, and level of roads, only as preparatory material in dealing with the issue at hand. In the following weeks, we will determine: where did the idea of living together materialize, why is our social environment perpetuating the practice, and what are the affects of a common-law relationship, and why be married?

Peace Award

In his letter accepting the Award Mr. Hurtig indicated "The next few weeks and months will be the most important period in modern Canadian History. The vast majority of Canadians have little or no idea of what is actually in the 'trade' agreement. What's really at stake in the next election, whether it's this Fall or next Spring is the very destiny of our nation and our ability to determine our future."

Former award winners were Pierre Berton, Mayor Jean

Drapeau, Stanley Knowles, Dr. Robert McClure, Pierre Elliott Trudeau and last year's winner was Alan Eagleson, Toronto.

The Award will be sent to Mr. Hurtig at his Edmonton address by Roy Cadwell, Chairman of the park. The winner of the annual poetry contest sponsored by the peace park is Alberta Stephen, Harwood, Ontario K0K 2H0 There were 67 entries across Canada.

15th ANNUAL PEACE PARK POETRY CONTEST 1988
by Alberta Stephen

Where fear and suffering now hold sway:

Give new strength to helping hands,
Blessed peace in knowing they.

Immortal souls in house of clay,
Are helping others on their way.

Give them courage. In the darkness
May they see the gleam of light.

Ever brighter, through the shadows
Of the long and lonely night.

"Earth's a resting place," then tell us

Why this carnage, pain and fright?

Why this turmoi, oh, my

Why this never-ending strife?

Life's for living; all this slaughter

Turn, oh turn from hate and anger.

Bring new purpose to your life.

By thought our world created was,

By thoughts we build our road of life.

A thought within the mind of God
Became a man with breath of life.

To love his brothers, share their world.

Nor decimate with mindless strife.

Sweeps our lands in furious pain;

Fear of darkness, unknown terrors,
Nations fall, to rise again

With new courage, clearer vision,
Lessons learned, engraved in pain.

"Peace begins with me," my brothers.

Keep that goal within your sight.

Fill your thoughts of true forgiveness
With the loving golden light.

Walk within that light, my brothers.
Shining "round you, day and night."

Built each day through Hope reborn.

Life your eyes to visions forming.
Clouds of doubt or failure scorn.

Each one building for the future.
Heralds of that blessed morn
When in brotherhood we cherish

Entheos - the god within - reborn!

A five year agreement between the Ministry of Natural Resources and the newly established Friends of Presquile Park will aim to improve the Parks education programs and services.

"This agreement puts The Friends into business as a full-fledged non-profit, charitable organization dedicated to enhancing educational programs and services in Presquile Park," said John Oatway, Regional Director with the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The signing of the agreement is the result of more than a year of planning by ministry staff and the group's recently elected Board of Directors.

According to The Friends' chairman of the board, John Cole of Castleton, "the association will help further the achievement of the park's goals by allowing volunteers from the local community to actively assist park staff with educational activities, publicity, and the production of high quality park-related publications".

"There are several exciting projects that we would like to consider," added Cole. "New books about the park's natural and cultural history, the construction of new displays, or even the restoration of the famous lighthouse at the tip of Presquile are all possible projects."

Presquile Park becomes the fifth provincial park in Ontario to gain an association of its own, as a non-profit group, The Friends can carry-out fundraising to acquire capital for special projects that the ministry would otherwise be unable to do on its own.

"The concept of The Friends of Presquile Park is an excellent one," said Cole. "In the longer term improved services of this kind will help develop tourism in the area."

Anyone wanting to know more information about The Friends or how to join can write to them at: The Friends of Presquile Park, P.O. Box 1442, Brighton, Ontario, K0H 1H0.

It took Mieke two years to complete a program for her computer which gives any person a totally personal forecast of their life for the following year, according to numerology, astrology and bio-rhythms.

After establishing a large following within Toronto and Ontario she says she had to get out of Toronto and she was psychically drawn here.

The abovementioned personal forecast or 'chart' as Mieke calls it, costs $30, and most of her clientele request one annually.
The chart, usually over 30 pages in length for any individual, goes into great detail as to what is working for you, your weaknesses and strengths, what to pursue and what not to pursue.

It's easy to read and no one chart is alike, they are all truly personal. Mieke, according to her clientele, has an above average 85 percent accuracy rate depending on the individual.

Mieke Van Haagen says she was psychically drawn here.

Numerology, astrology, tarot readings and 'tuning in'
are what Mieke (which is pronounced Meeka) is all about.

Her first experience came at the age of 3, when she anticipated the unexpected visit of her aunt to the family home in Rotterdam, Holland.

But her visions have not been her life.

In the early 1970's with selling insurance, Mieke was the first woman invited to serve on the education committee of the Insurance Institute of Ontario to represent the insurance women of Canada. She is also credited with having been the first insurance representative to organize a workshop explaining insurance for the,
at that time, all new condominiums that were going up all over Toronto.

And that was her profession, that was until she decided to take a course in computer programming.

All sessions are taped and
the tape given to her customer.
Some sessions can last up to 3 hours but that is again up to the person seeking her talents.

*Mieke had her own television show out of Brampton. It was so successful that at one point all her equipment jammed.
Her accuracy rate was again verified when people were asked to call in to the live show requesting Mieke's help.*

EDITOR'S NOTE

During the interview, I, not asking for verification of her psychic abilities, was given a taste.

Out of the blue she asked me if I had a dog, a collie she said with a beautiful nearly-white coat.

I think I will return and visit Mieke again, as the dog in question has been in my family since the passing of my father.
And yes, it is part Collie, part Samoyed, which explains (to you) the nearly-white coat.
Her name is Tammy and she is special to both me and my mother. Probably the reason

FOR $5

Understandably some people do not want to invest the initial $30 and Mieke realizes this.
Some people will also condemn what they don't understand.

Realistically then, for $5 and the assistance of your name and birthdate, a chart 6 pages in length, with a 70 percent accuracy rate is obtainable.
Each one being very personal and very private.

AN INTRODUCTION

Mieke will be introducing herself at area fairs including Madoc in September and next month in Tweed.

You can also reach Mieke
Van Haagen by dialing
478-3571.

Doug has Muscular Dystrophy. He attends Stirling Senior School, in his wheelchair. When I heard about Doug from Aureen Richardson, I had to find out more about him. Doug loves to write stories, and here is one of them:

"THE HERO"

by Doug Harding

One day a young boy in a wheelchair was riding downtown.

He slowly moved in between people on the street. Everywhere there was noise and moving cars.

Suddenly a little girl left her mother and ran in front of a car. The mother did not see her.

The boy in the wheelchair quickly grabbed the small child, and pulled her up in his arms. The town called him a HERO.

The boy felt happy and proud.

We're proud of you, Doug. Keep up the good work. And, if you write anymore stories, we'll be very honored to put them in our column. And maybe, you'll inspire the others to write.

Thank you, Doug.
Your admirer, Barbara.

This is what this column is

RAISING AWARENESS ABOUT DISABLED IN BLOORVIEW

About 50 youngsters from Bloorview Children's Hospital in North York spent a hot day in late May proving that they could get involved in a "normal" activity - washing cars.

They washed about 100 of them, to raise $255, and in the process, make a point about the disabled.

The event was their contribution to Canada's first National Access Awareness Week (May 29 to June 4).

Bloorview social worker, Barbara Fishbein, says the residents, aged 7 to 22, had a terrific time - everyone could participate by holding sprints or otherwise getting involved. Many youngsters, whose use of a wheelchair might otherwise relegate them to the sidelines, got right into the thick - or wet - of things.

The resident's council decided to donate the money to the Herbie Fund at the Hospital for Sick Children. They wanted to show that those who are often the recipients of charity could also be on the giving end, Ms. Fishbein said.

Events planned at the community level for Access Awareness Week ranged from Bloorview's car wash to shopping mall displays, an art exhibit at the office of Remo Mancini, Minister responsible for the disabled, and a wheelchair maintenance clinic in Cobourg.

The special week was designated after wheelchair athlete Rick Hansen's Man-in-Motion journey ended a year ago.

The biggest hurdles for the disabled are the attitudinal barriers set up by the rest of society. Marthe Peters from the Toronto Office for Disabled Persons, said.

The aim for the week is for communities to pick one of five areas in which to launch a project. Next year, they can evaluate how attitudes have changed.

She said the five areas that most need improvement are: transportation, education, employment, recreation and housing.

The first grants from Rick Hansen's fund-raising efforts were made at the end of the week to researchers in spinal cord injury. Almost $800,000 in grants were given from the interest earned by the global tour.

From "The Advocate" INVISIBLY DISABLED WANT PARKING RIGHTS

Members of the public often step in to prevent the abuse of parking spots reserved for disabled drivers and passengers.

Now, some of the people who are parking in these spots are starting to fight back. They are persons who are invisibly disabled.

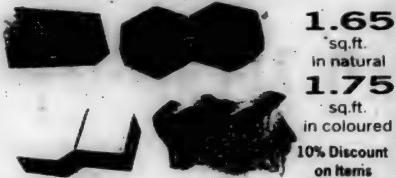

For instance, one man with a heart condition so severe, he says he can't walk more than 50 feet without resting, was blistering with anger after being accosted.

Now, Roy Pitcher of Osgoode, Ontario, has started a group for people with hidden disabilities. He has designed a sticker similar to the official wheelchair symbol, but with a ghost in the chair.

For further information, write to: Hidden Disabilities Association, Box 623, Osgoode, Ontario, K0A 2W1.

Do yourself a favour - Volunteer

by Brian Carruthers

My father always told me, "son make sure you prepare for your retirement," like most sons I didn't listen to that advice.

But the other day that message was brought home and made very clear exactly how important my dad's saying is. I sat down and talked to a lady, Trudy Veerman, of Community Care. I thought it would be a good idea to promote this organization, especially since I had heard that they were short of drivers and other volunteers.

Trudy said, "we should all be working to promote and make services like Community Care better, because someday all of us will need these services ourselves."

Think about it! When you get to be 85 or 90 years old and all your friends and relatives have gone to the great beyond or maybe your children all live in Vancouver or St. John's. Who will look after you? What if you don't want to be hospitalized or institutionalized? The doctors agree you are quite capable of living alone and taking care of yourself and you don't need to be put in a home, except for the fact there isn't anyone who comes and visits you. So the doctor says you have to go into a home or a hospital. Then Community Care comes along with its support programs and the doctor says okay you don't have to be institutionalized. Now you are very happy!

What exactly is Community Care? Community Care is a non-profit organization designed to provide supportive help and outreach programs where necessary in Campbellford, Seymour, Hastings, Havelock, Warkworth and area. Mrs. Veerman says, "it is a social service as opposed to medical."

What kind of support does Community Care offer? Well it varies with the different individuals but in general some of the services and programs are:

*Transportation - a volunteer takes you to local or out-of-town medical clinics, shopping or banking.

*Friendly Visiting - a volunteer visits you at home on a regular basis. These volunteers are specially chosen and they visit once a week for a day or an hour. This service is for those who need social contact outside of the family.

*Meals-on-Wheels (in Hastings and Warkworth areas only) - a hot nourishing meal on a regular basis at noon hour.

Social Activities

*Diners Club - dinner and entertainment for seniors and/or shut-ins on a regular basis. Transportation and assistance provided. These dinners are held in different churches in the area. The people who attend these say they really look forward to this one event a month.

*Information and Referral Centre - a telephone and/or drop-in information service which is free, confidential, neutral and available to all citizens.

There is a nominal fee for some of these programs.

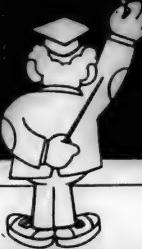

How does Community Care operate? They have a volunteer Board of Directors and Staff Member research the needs in the various communities and provide the necessary programs to satisfy these needs. Community Care cooperates with and works with all existing health and social services.

How is Community Care financed? The Ministry of Community and Social Services provides a percentage of the funds required for the programs. Community Care also depends on municipal grants, and welcomes donations from service clubs, church groups and interested individuals to make up the difference.

For those who are thinking about volunteering remember you are only volunteering you and your time. If you drive someone some place your gas money is reimbursed. Remember you may also be doing yourself a future favour.
